In Memoriam

O those who have been called to another world and have not been able to complete with us four years of high school we wish a happy eternity. How happy might have been our commencement had all those who started with us as Freshmen been able to complete with us our senior year. . . . Let us pause a moment in deep reverence to the memory of those who have passed beyond.

Ralph Richard Upton, whose literary knowledge and generosity in imparting the results of long study and education has made him the idol of the literary aspirants and journalistic disciples. His steady hand has guided the publications of Franklin High School safely over the hidden reefs and through the frequent squalls, for over a decade. His time and efforts are responsible for the present edition of the yearbook, and it is with the deepest regret that we announce his retirement from the advisership. With grateful hearts we dedicate this edition of the Tolo Annual to Mr. Upton.

Foreword . . .

HE activity of youth, as displayed by athletics, was adopted by the student members of the Tolo Annual staff as a fit motif around which to build this yearbook. The development of the theme was planned by the staff and put into art by the art editors. The photographer also built up his photography around the motif as far as it was possible for him to do. It was the idea of the staff to produce a yearbook possessing a certain degree of continuity and one that would contain all the essentials of a complete, graphic, fast-moving history of the school year of 1930.

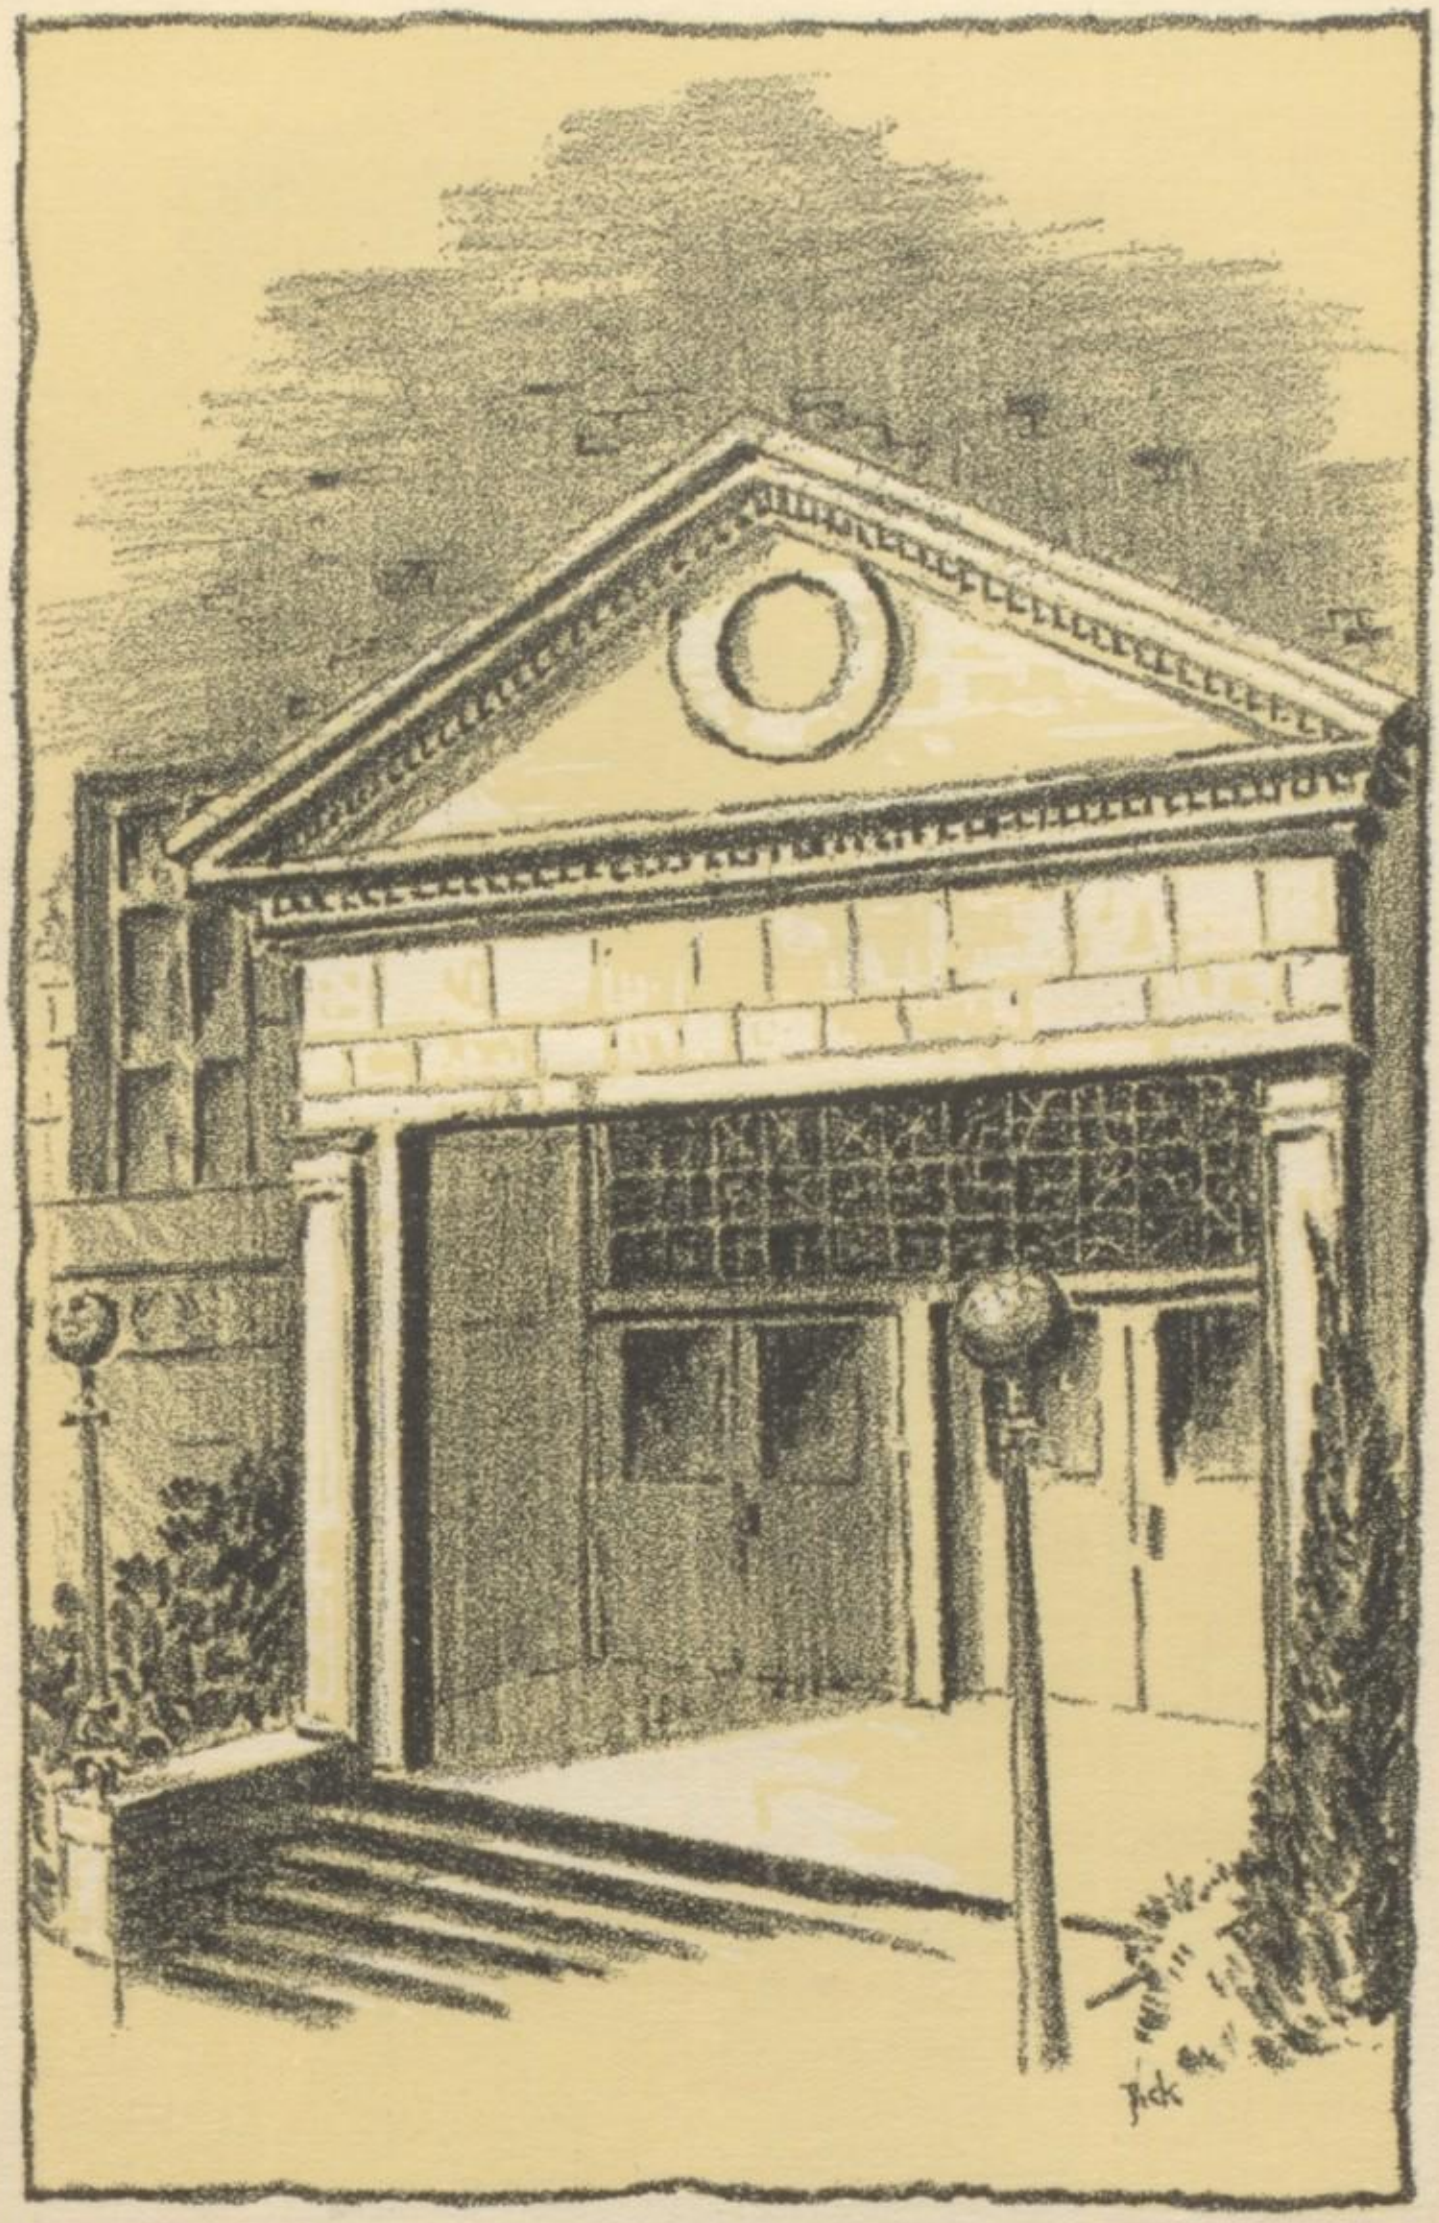
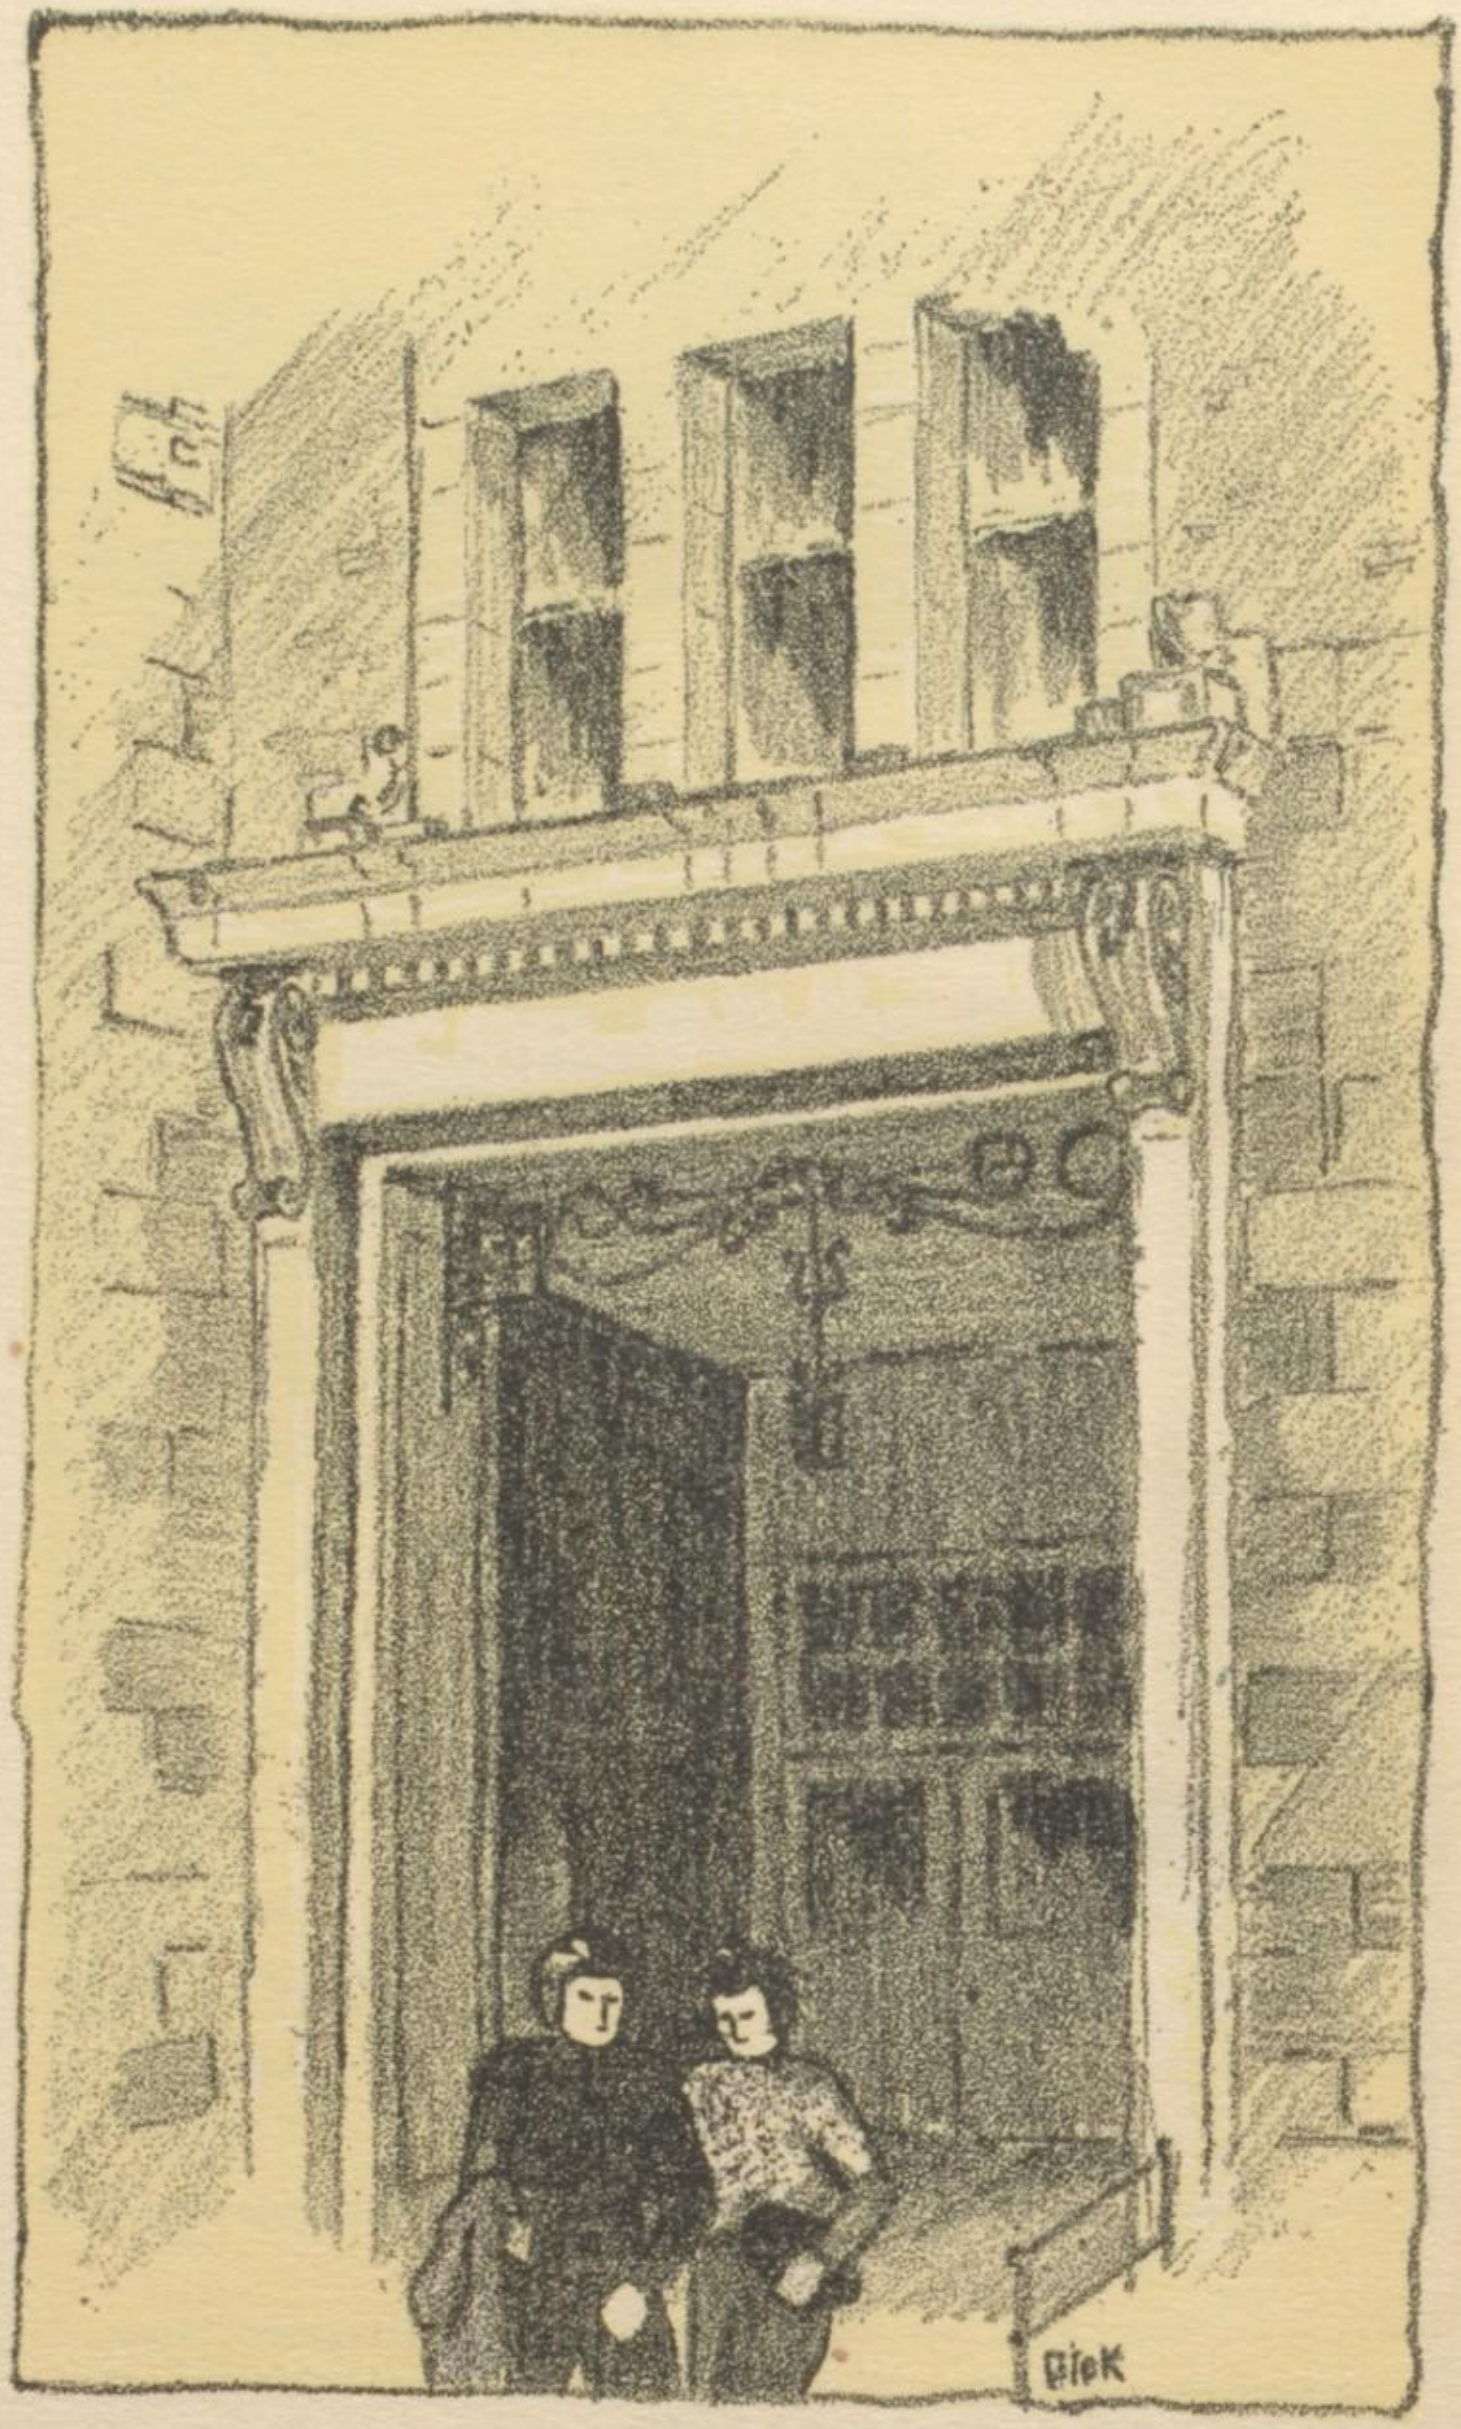
The School

T is a thing of beauty and a joy forever . . . this building of ours, supported by its tall white columns and its high arched windows, even the entrances strike a note of architectural perfection and artisticness. This, offset by the verdure of the beautiful Mt. Baker Park, presents a word picture of the institution in which we were engaged in the pursuit of knowledge.

Let us reminisce and once more walk through the halls and take our seats in the senior section and again live the joyful days spent at Franklin. Visualize, with the aid of the artist's interpretation, the scenes which should surely be indelibly impressed upon your mind as you take an imaginary trip through the following few pages.

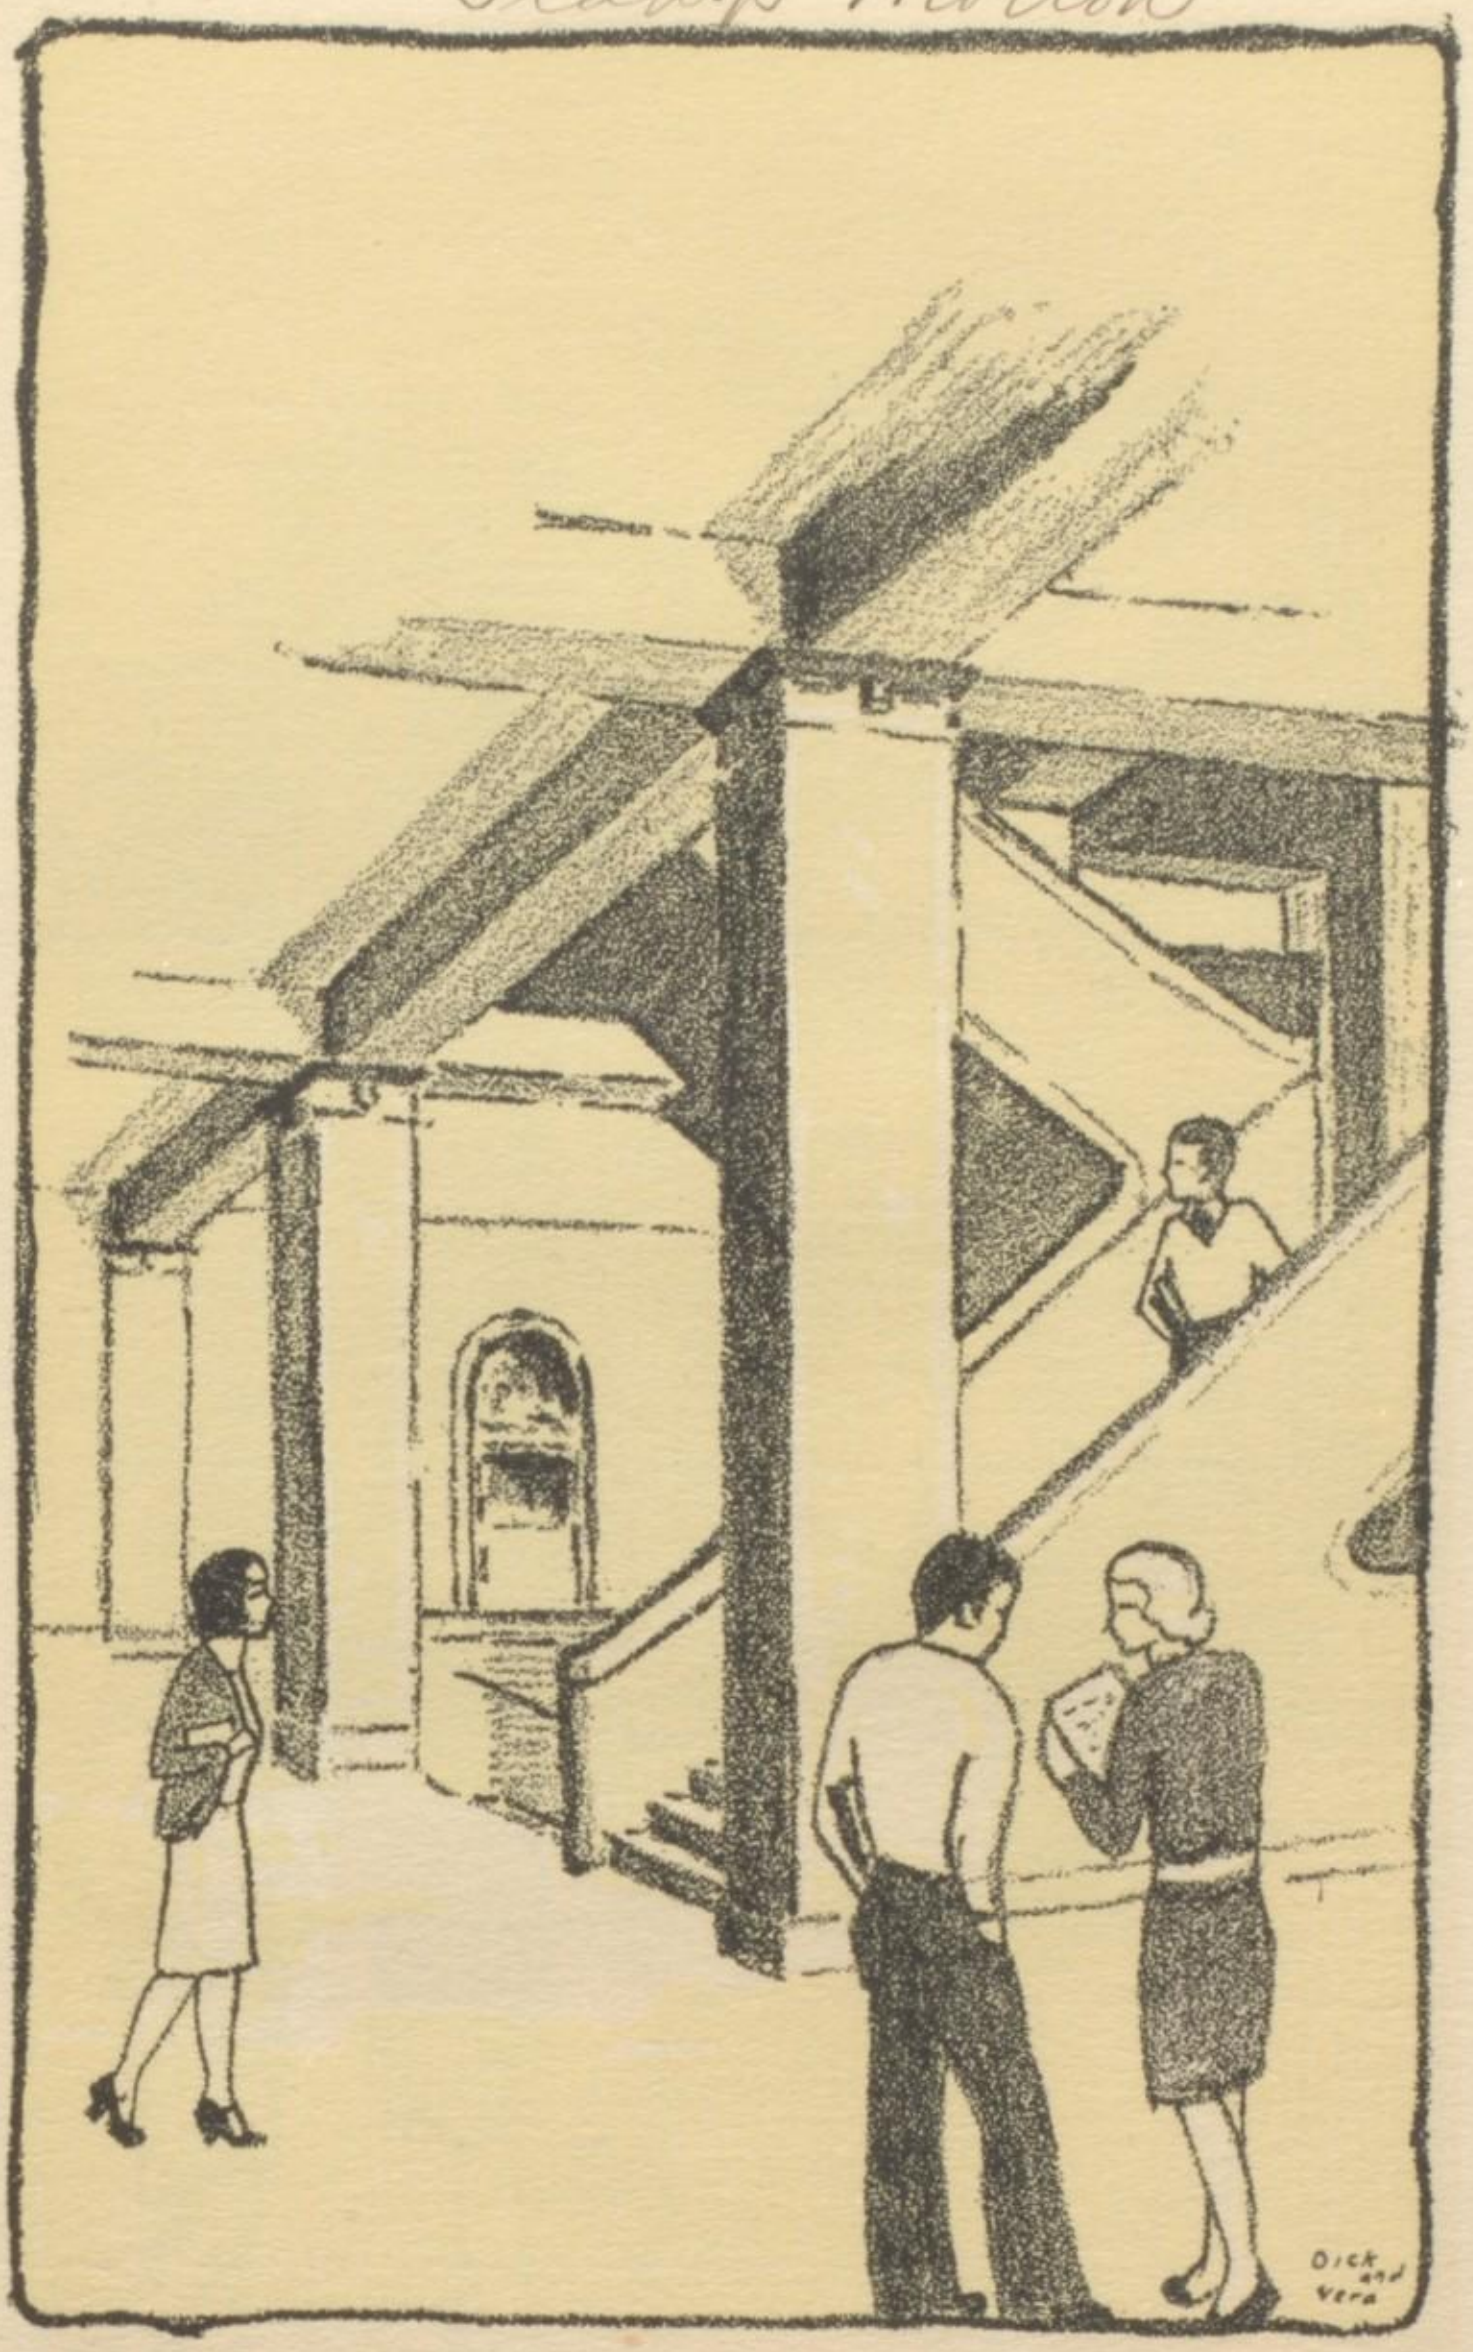


The impressive southern entrance invites all those who approach from the south this institution named in honor of one of America's first scientists, Benjamin Franklin.

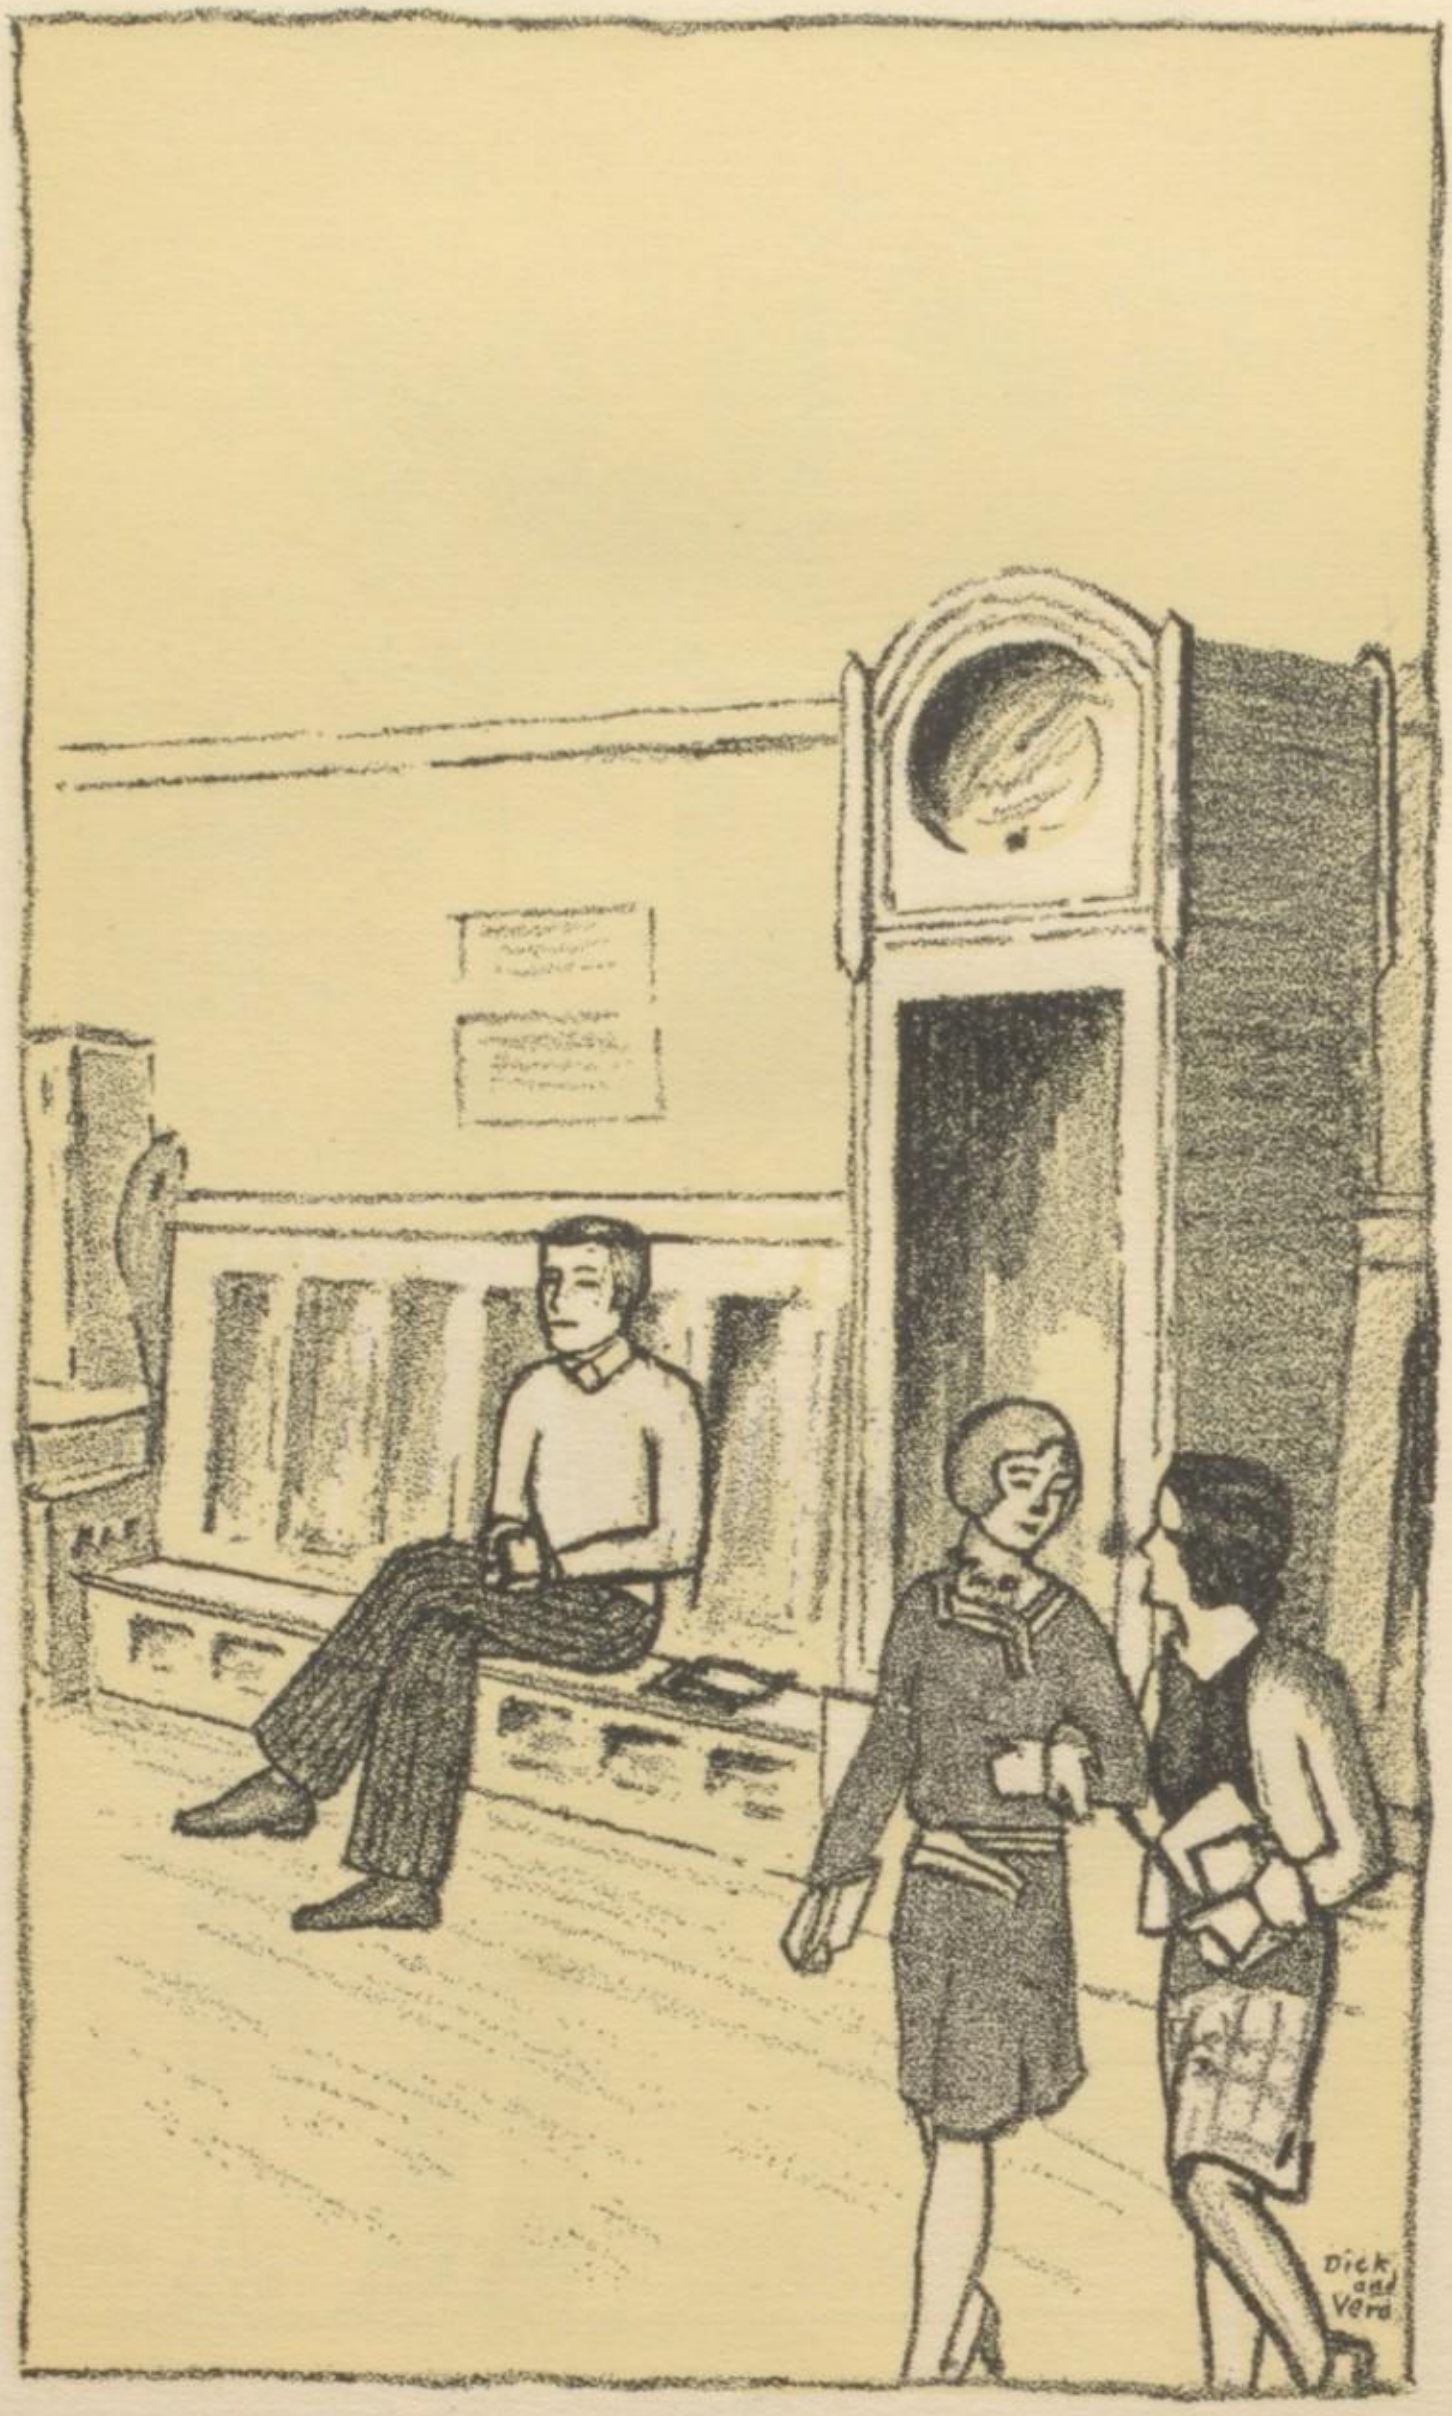


The west portal admits all those who enter from the highland and the valley. In the afternoon it affords members of Franklin's athletic teams entrance to and from the field.

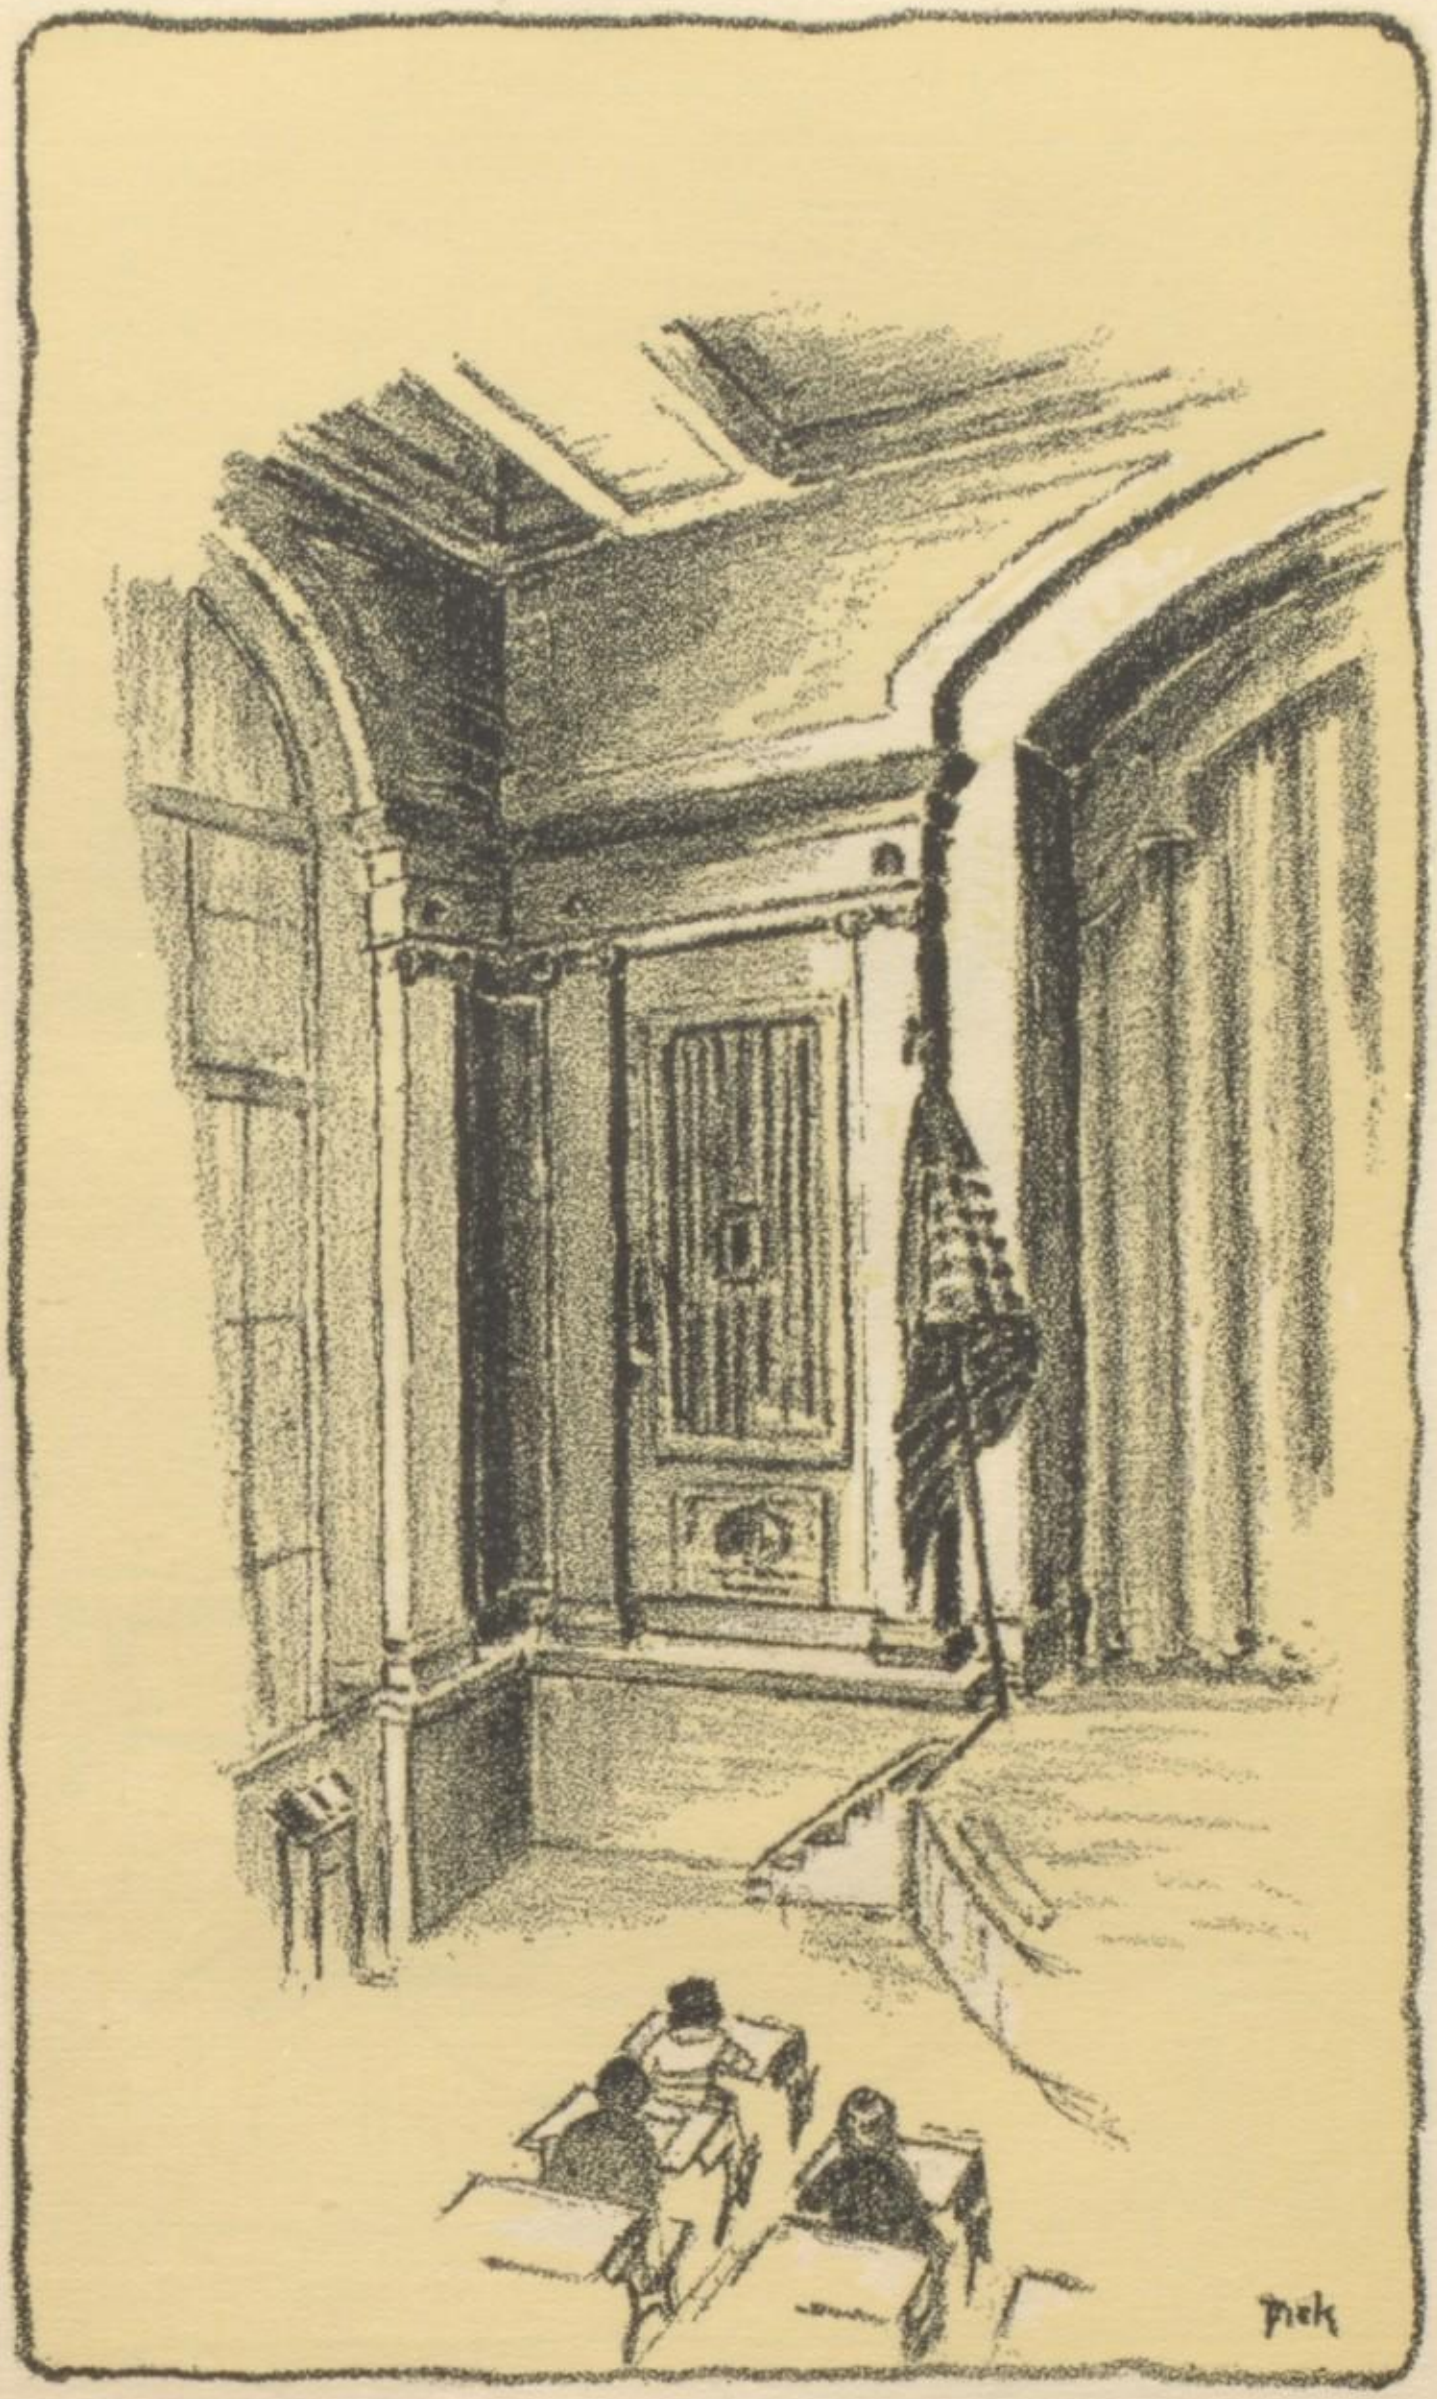
I don't know you like I should like to. But I'm more than glad to sign your Solo. Gladys Morton



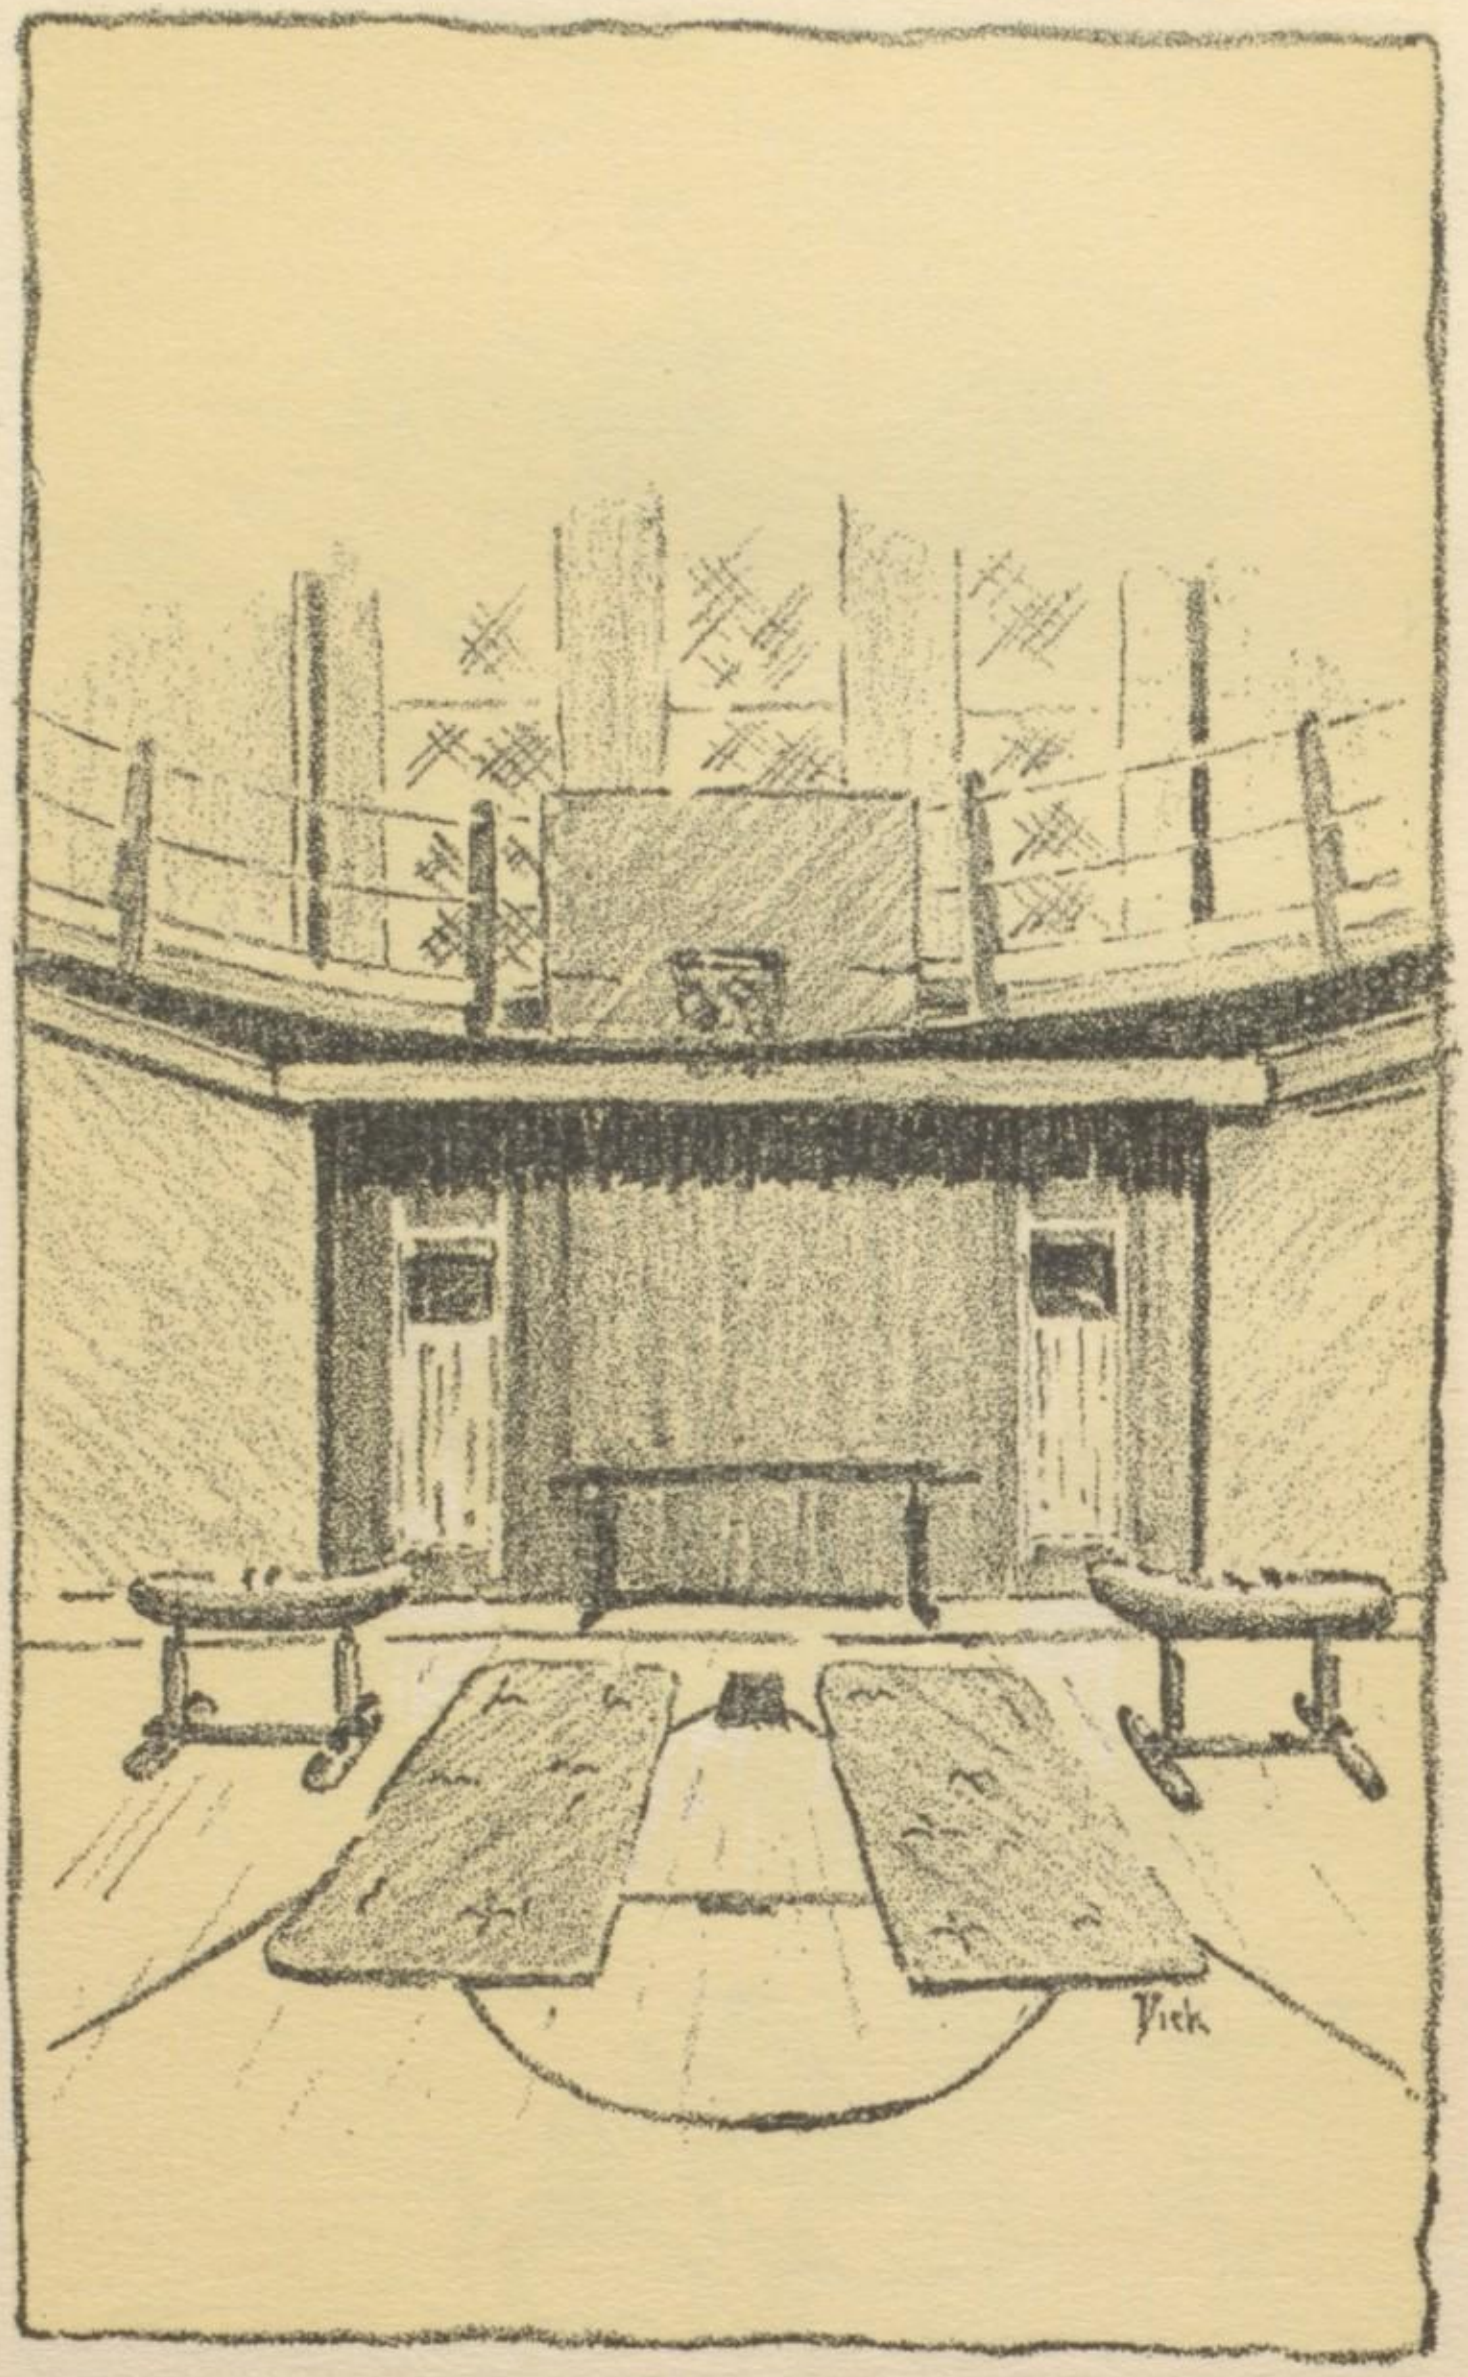
On the stairs many a hurried conversation, not to mention a glance from eyes that glow with the light of love, takes place as the students pass from one class room to another.



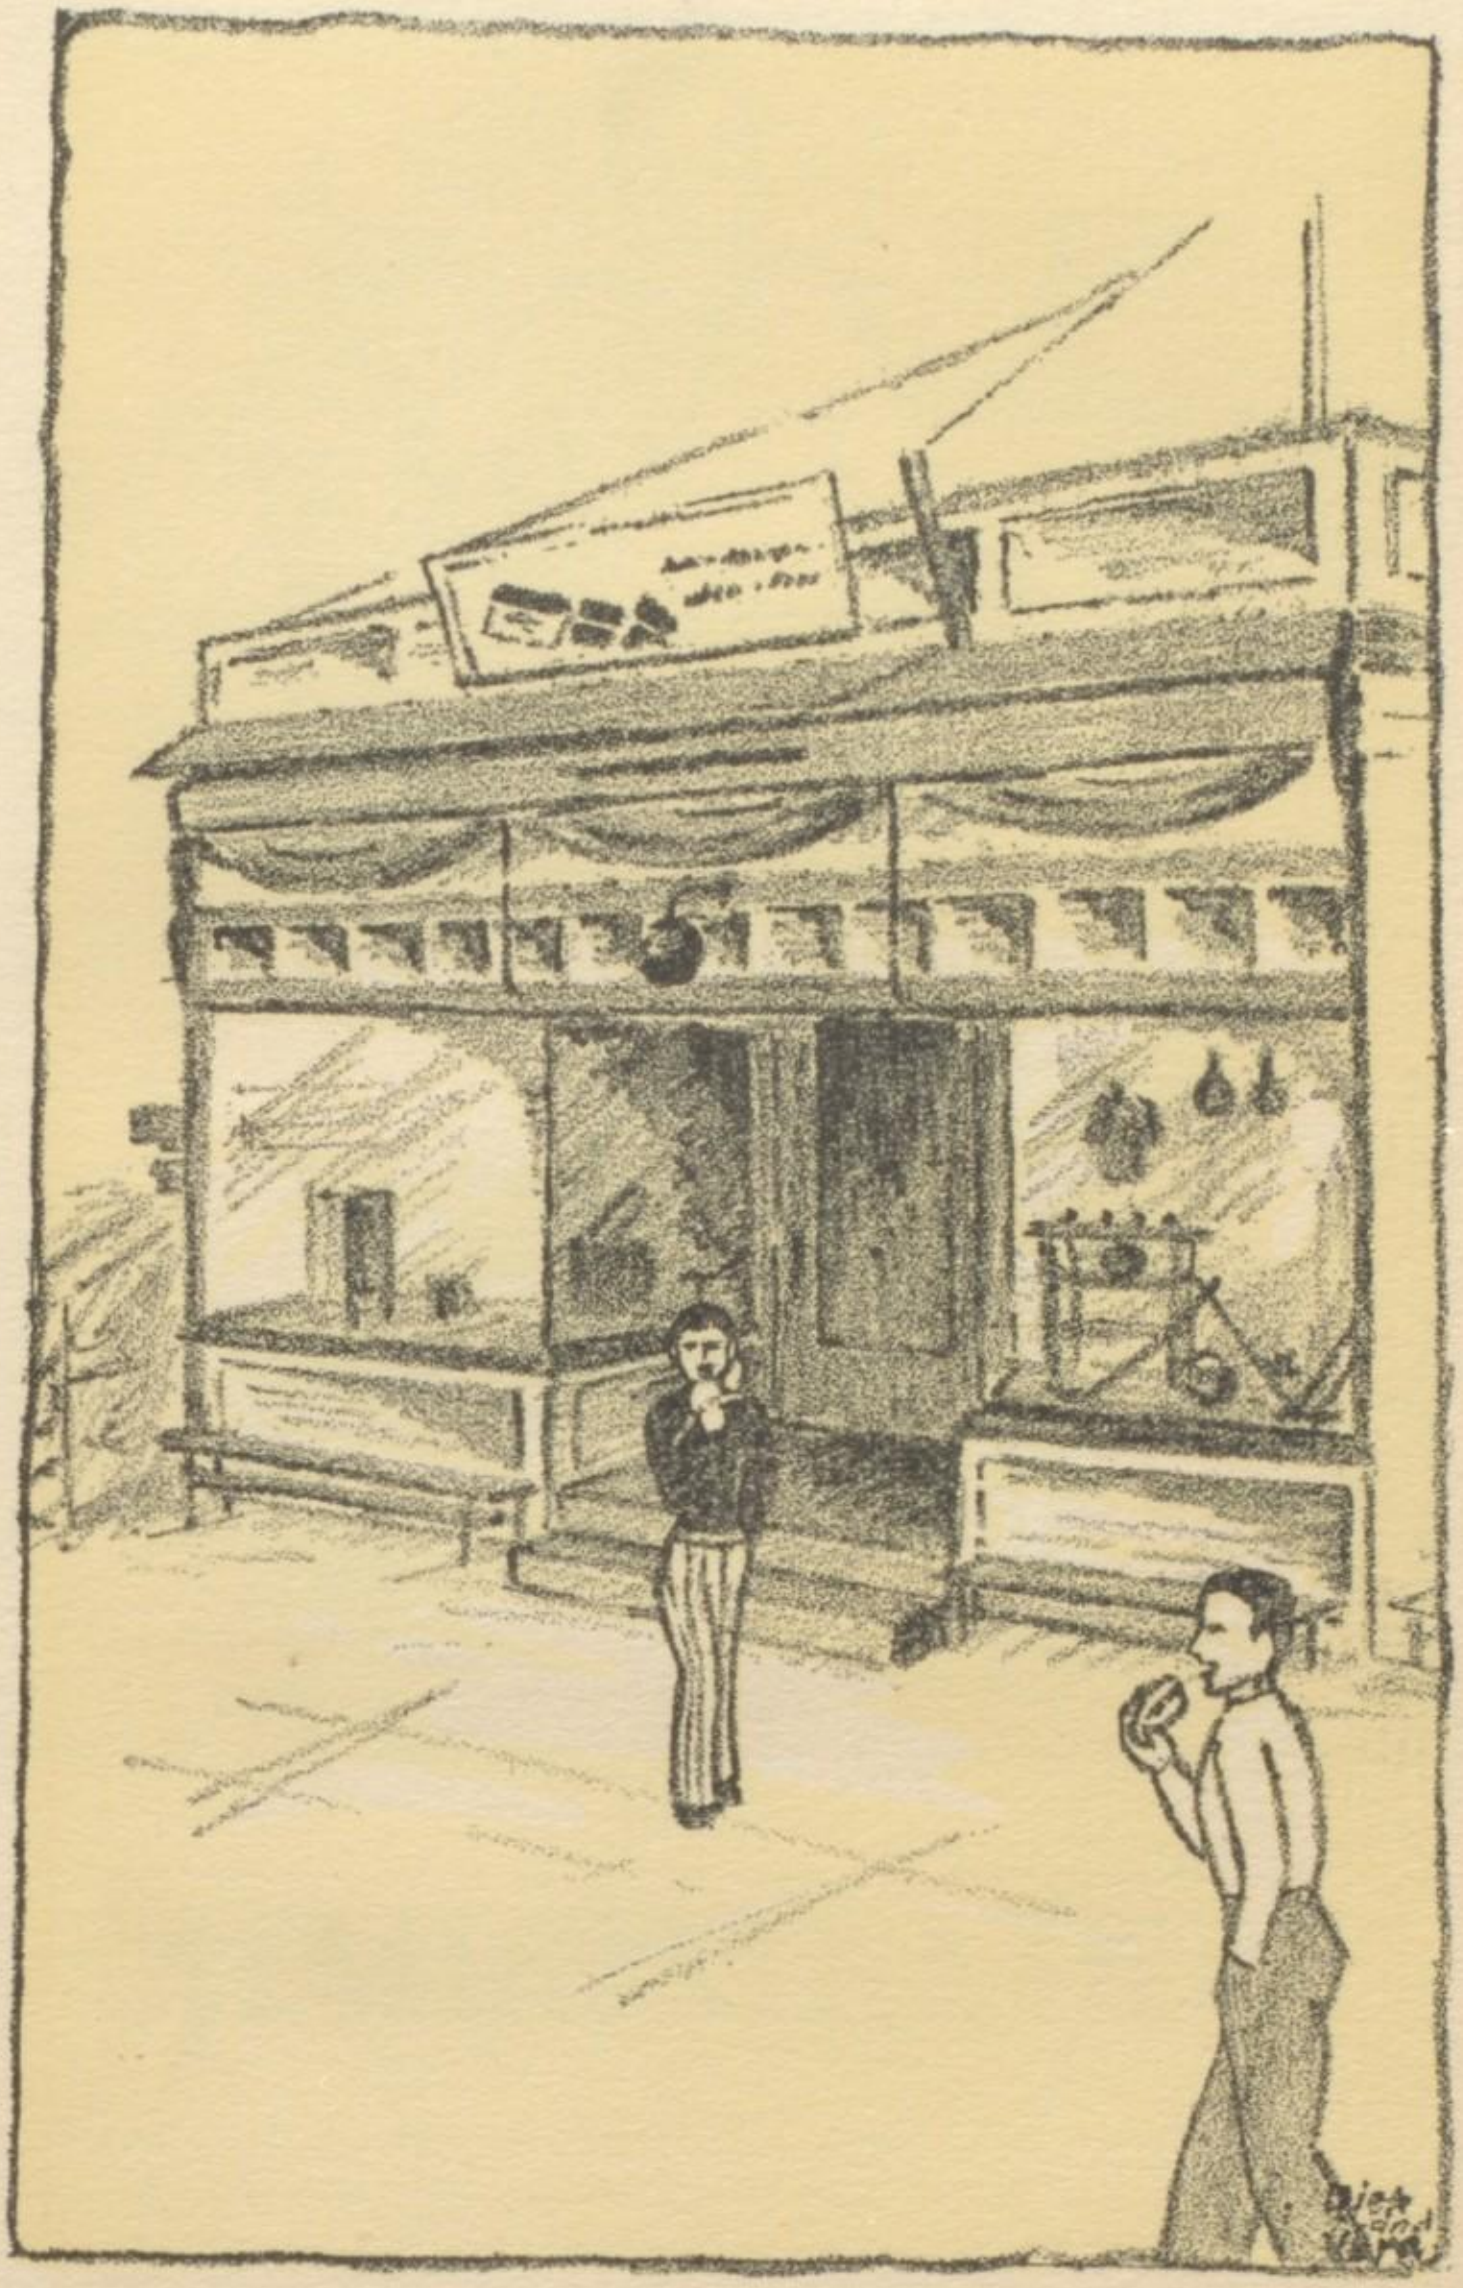
The Mourner's Bench. Here the penitent student expiates his unexcused absences and has ample time to meditate upon his sins.



Sanctum Sanctorum, the Senior section. Woe betide the unwary Freshman, or even the ambitious Junior, who finds his way into the sacred precincts of the high and mighty Senior.



The Boys' Gym. Character building as well as muscle strengthening is the continuous process which the students undergo here.



Ye Beanerye. Here words fail us to describe the concoctions, the tomfoolery, and the gaiety enjoyed by the clientele. After school and during the lunch hours it is the very abode of mirth.

ADMINISTRATION

JOSEPH A. REED
Principal

HOSE upon whom has been placed the responsibility of editing and issuing this Tolo Annual have, with a considerable expenditure of time, of effort and of ability, placed before us in this little volume a permanent record of some of those events and activities that seemed to be most worth while. In order that we may, in future years, visualize more definitely those with whom we have been associated, a considerable use of photography has been employed.

This Annual may be considered as a milestone in our lives; it marks off for almost all of us real progress in those character traits and habits that will mean so much in our future lives, that are so necessary in every forward-looking group or community. It is our sincere wish that on account of successes won this year each may become a better, a more capable and efficient member of society.

Very truly yours,

J. A. REED, Principal.

SIDNEY P. TRATHEN

FACULTY

Head of the administration of Franklin, Joseph A. Reed, principal, is responsible for Franklin's high rating among the high schools of Seattle.

All Franklinites know S. P. Trathen as vice-principal.

Members of Franklin's faculty before Franklin was moved to its present location, 16 years ago, were: Miss McCarney, Miss Barnes, Miss Bennett, Mr. Laizure, Miss Johnson, Miss Gorman, Miss Chambers and Miss Rinehart.

Mr. Grocock, head of the Industrial Arts Department, passed away during the year. His death caused much grief throughout Franklin.

Many of Franklin's faculty have proven themselves a great aid to clubs, classes and committees as faculty advisers.

Dear Irene:
I hope you lots of luck Martha Roberts

As a lasting remembrance and token of our appreciation for the tireless efforts and sacrifice of time expended in the shaping of the course of the class of 1930 from our entry to the very eve of our graduation we, the class of 1930, dedicate this book, entitled "Classes," to Miss Agnes Remley, the faithful adviser of the class.

She has directed our course away from the hidden reef and safely through the squall in a thoroughly organized body to the inspiration of our high school days, a diploma.

From the bottom of our hearts each member of the class of 1930 wishes to express his appreciation for your loyalty and kindness as the adviser of the Senior Class, Miss Agnes Remley.

Junior Class

With two years of previous high school experience, and guided by a fine staff of officers, the class of 1931 continued on its way for another year of activity.

The football season ended with seven Juniors earning first team letters. They were: Chuck Callin, Trygve Hansen, Harold Hoyt, Eugene Bell, Paul Kimball and Cameron Callin. Two others, Leonard Rich and Roland Dickie, earned their "F's" in basketball.

Thirty-two Juniors were represented in the Honor Society, while twenty-two had earned enough points to wear Senior Honor Pins. Harriett Malcolm and Sholto Salmon showed their ability on the debate team.

The first Junior-Senior matinee came in the fall, with Edythe Swenson as chairman, carrying out the "Christmas Idea." The spring opera, "The Chocolate Soldier," included many of the class of '31.

Under their adviser, Miss Fowler, the Juniors are ready for their Senior year in Franklin High School.

NEXT YEAR

At the close of this year, the Girls' Club officers for 1931 were elected with these results: Barbara Jacobsen, president; a charming girl, well equipped with executive ability to handle admirably the position. Susan Moseley, the vice-president elect, is an attractive addition to the administration of the organization, ought to make a good assistant to Barbara. The rest of the officers, Jeanne Clampreux, Evelyn Peterson and Fredericka Smith, promise to be excellent assistants. As yet no definite program has been adopted.

In the Boys' Club, Trygve Hansen is the president-elect. He will be assisted by an able staff of officers: Leonard Rich and Chuck Callin as vice-president and secretary respectively. All three have earned first team letters. It looks as though the athletics will be well represented in the Boys' Club Cabinet. As yet these boys have not announced a definite program.

To date the class officers have not been elected. There is, however, plenty of good material to make a good administration for the class.

The class of 1931 is about to embark upon its senior year with the benefit of three years experience. The Seniors, to be, also should do much better than the present class, having had the experience, passed on to them by the Senior Class.

More success to you, '31, the class of 1930 is for you!

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The class of 1932 had a most successful Sophomore year, under the guidance of Miss Wilson, the adviser. They held all their regular meetings and more of them than any other class.

Athletics were one of their strong fortes. Dick Camp and Jack Gilliam played on the football team, the Sophomore basketball team won the championship, and many second year men were in baseball and track. The girls, too, were in athletics in a big way. More Soph girls received their "F's" than any other class.

Ninety-five were on the Honor Society, twenty-three of these being on the Junior list.

Unlike most lower classes in past years, this year's Sophomores were a real live-wire bunch and their committees and groups were more than merely names. The Sophomore Dramatic Club put on many plays for the Girls' Club, the class party was a decided success, all committees functioned perfectly, and Sophomores were actively engaged in all school activities.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Franklin's yearlings got off to a good start for their four-year trip through Franklin High School. Mrs. Strong was chosen as class adviser and under her guidance the Class of 1933 looks as if it will do big things.

Athletics, coming into their own now, had many Frosh in their ranks. For the first time in years, the Frosh football team ran away with the championship, going through the season without having their goal crossed once. The first year basketball five did not fare so well, winning three out of their eight games. Freshmen won places for themselves on the baseball team and the Freshman track team was one of the best in the city.

The Class of '33 had four active committees, all of which combined for the annual Freshman Frolic. They were: Poster committee, Margaret Strong, chairman; Program, Valerie Ellis; Refreshment, Frances Brown; and Decoration, Harriett Hogan.

I hope you have lots of fuck

THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST

To Miss O'Leary a charming addition to Franklin's faculty this year, fell the task of directing one of the biggest events in the school curriculum, the Senior Class play. "The Importance of Being Earnest," a three-act comedy by Oscar Wilde, was the play selected.

Not the side-splitting type of comedy designed especially for William Haines or Buster Keaton, but filled with subtle humor which only an intelligent audience can grasp and which takes a well-trained cast to present. Considering the "diamonds-in-the-rough" she had to work with, Miss O'Leary turned out a fine, polished performance both nights, using a double cast.

The mistaken identity theme keeps the audience guessing. Algernon Moncrieff and John Worthing have assumed the name of Earnest Worthing because Gwendolyn Fairfax and Cecily Cardew, Worthing's ward, will not seem to hear of any other name for the two men. In the end their identity is revealed and they are forgiven. The remainder of the plot revolves about this main plot and gives the play finish.

Cecilia Cummings and Helen Jacobs were student directors.

THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER

Under the excellent direction of Lawrence H. Blacknell and with the cooperation of an excellent cast, the three-act comic opera, "The Chocolate Soldier," was presented to and approved by a full house, on the nights of May 2 and 3 in the Franklin High School Auditorium.

A Swiss officer, Lieutenant Bumerli, fighting for the Serbians is forced to flee before the Bulgarians, victorious over Serbia. He seeks refuge in the boudoir of pretty Nadina Popoff, daughter of Colonel Kasimir Popoff. Mascha, cousin of Nadina, and Aurelia, Nadina's mother, uncover Nadina's secret. Popoff's house coat is lent to Bumerli and when he returns it with the picture of the three women, complications arrive as do the colonel and Alexius Spiridoff, betrothed to Nadina. Nadina's love for Bumerli is revealed. Mascha and Alexius also fall in love and all ends happily. The choruses lend much local color to the scenes.

FRANKLIN "STATIC"

Franklin's annual vodvil, "Franklin Static," featuring the radio idea, was the best production of its kind presented in recent years. With Bob Miller and Jack Jarvis as masters of ceremonies, announcing the various acts over the "mike," the two performances went off with the well-known "bang" and were full of fun from start to finish.

"Collegiate Blues," a fast-moving song and dance act, was the feature of the varied program, presenting late hits in a new and novel manner.

Harmony came into its own with many ways of getting it over to the audience. Among the numbers were the Harmony Boys; Plantation Halloween, a song and dance number; "Night Club Idea"; Sleepy Time Gals; and Girls' Octet.

Novelty acts included a chalk talk by Vic Vieg, fencing by Greenwood and Fields; tumbling by the Garfield Tumblers, Laizure and Smith's nonsense act, Shakespearian hash, and a style show.

DEBATE TEAM

Franklin's debate team ranks about fifth in the standing of the Seattle school teams. This year's topics for debate by the negative and affirmative teams were: The Present Jury System and the Philippine Question. Last fall, the team averaged about half and half in decisions, but the spring term's was not as successful, losing all their debates by close decisions. Mr. Griffin coaches the negative teams, and Miss Hart, the affirmative teams. One-fourth of a credit is given for a semester's debating to those on the team. Other awards are a gold pin for four debates, and a bronze pin for two debates.

The members of the debate team are as follows:

The Fall Affirmative Team: Gerald Hemrich and Harriett Malcolm.

Fall Negative Team: Sholto Salmon and Glen Williams.

Spring Affirmative Teams: Catherine McLeod and Harriett Malcolm; Gerald Hemrich and Sholto Salmon.

Spring Negative Team: Glen Williams and Gus Erickson.

THRIFT BULLETIN

A cartoon, a clever slogan, and the week's banking percentages combined to make the weekly thrift bulletin an interesting and informative.

The entire bulletin was the work of Glen Smith and Donald Laizure under the advisership of Miss Johnson. They alternated every week in putting out the bulletin. It was put out every Monday in the school year, even after vacation.

Franklin's lead in the high school thrift race for the greater part of the school year was due indirectly to this publication, which presented peppy and sure-fire "sales" talks every week without fail.

CULTURAL ART BULLETIN

The Cultural Art Bulletin is put out by a group of capable girls headed by Miss Bisazza. These girls are Mary Ann Greene, chairman; Marjorie Manthe, Dorothy Mills, Gertrude Marshall, Virginia Hudgings, Ruth Buehrer, Sara Nichols and Rita Rubini.

The bulletin is a paper that comes out every second Thursday and it contains items of cultural interest such as piano recitals, art exhibits, exceptional movie pictures or plays, and books.

Each girl on the committee is given three or four places to visit each week. She goes there to find out any bits of interest and then writes them up for it. If it is a person who is to be in Seattle, the girl interviews them. In this way it is good experience for the girl.

GREENBOOK

Among the publications of the year was the Greenbook, edited by Bill Spiedel, with Charles Henry, Roger Evans, Jack Jarvis, Bob Jahn, Josephine Nicholls, Edith and Effie Summers serving as reporters. This book, dedicated to Miss McCarney and Mr. Reseberg, served as a valuable individual source of information for Franklin students.

This is the first Greenbook Franklin has had for three years. No profit is made on these books, as the committee aims to sell only enough copies to cover the cost of publishing. About six hundred and fifty students took advantage of this opportunity.

This book contains the work of the Boys' and Girls' Club, athletic schedules, data about the classes, officers of clubs, the school calendar and general information. It leaves spaces for addresses and phone numbers, memorandums and an identification blank.

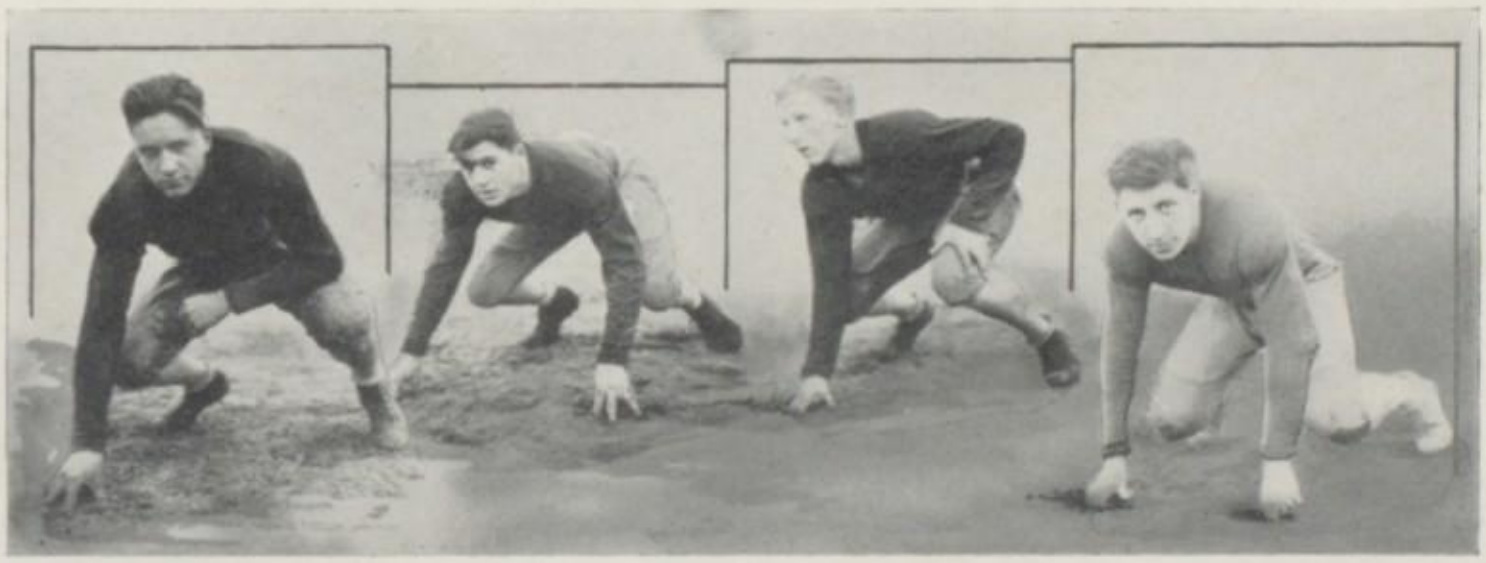
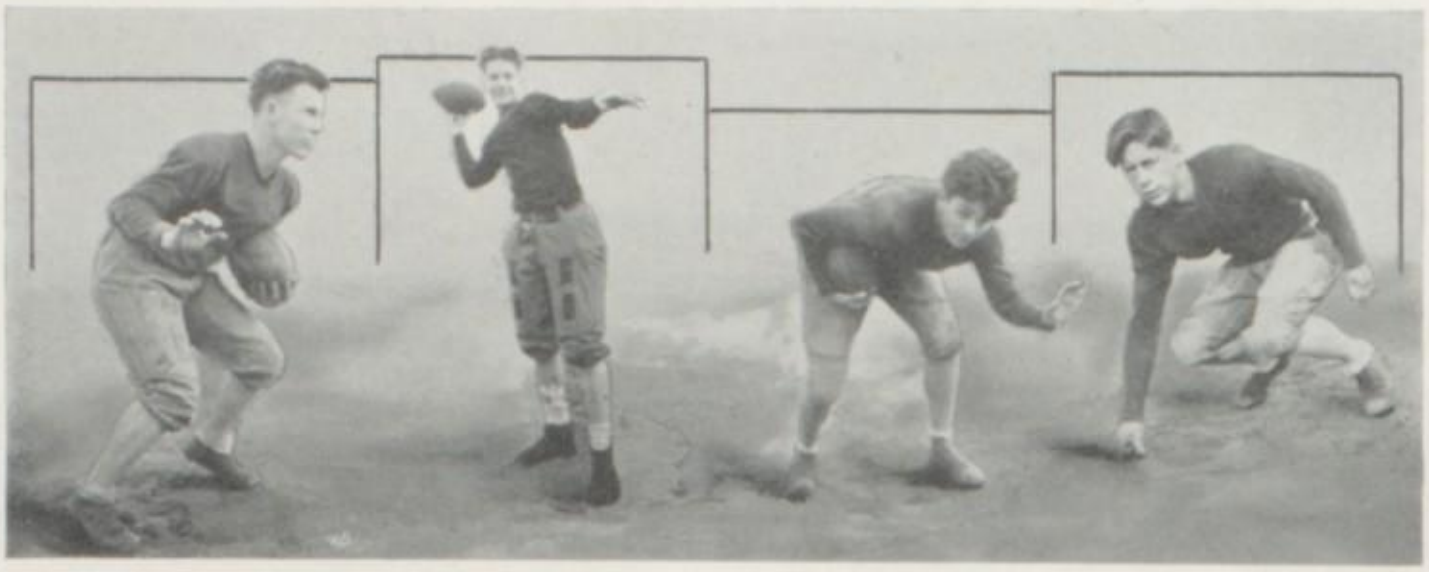
"For want of a place-kicker the championship was lost." . . . "Pop" Reed's take-off on that old nursery rhyme about the king that lost his kingdom because his horse threw a shoe is a fit way to describe Franklin's 1929 football season, in which the Green Wave finished one point behind Garfield, winning five out of six games.

Coach Kirk had been building for this year's team for several years and he had eleven lettermen returning in Captain Ross Pedersen, John Burton, Dominic Constantino, Paul Kimball, Trygve Hansen, Frank Nichols, Al Stedman, Merritt Maurer, Frank De Caro, and Eugene Bell.

Meeting the champion Garfield Bulldogs in the first game of the season, the Quakers dropped a heart-breaker by a single point, 7-6, when a place-kicked try-for-point was only inches wide of the goal posts. It was this unfortunate break that proved to be the mole-hill that turned into a mountain and landed the Wave in second place instead of at the top.

Rich Maurer Kimball Ghiglione





C. Callin Stedman Pedersen Hansen

West Seattle was spilled, 6 to 0, and those old rivals, the Broadway Tigers, were taken by a score of 19-2. Cleveland succumbed to a squad composed mostly of scrubs, 20 to 0, and Captain Pedersen led his mates to a decisive 27-0 victory over Lincoln.

In the final game with Roosevelt after Garfield had already cinched the title, Franklin was outplayed by the Rough Riders and it was only Ross Pedersen's 82-yard run for a touchdown on the kick-off opening the second half that gave Franklin a victory.

Nineteen men played the required number of quarters to win their big "F." They are: Ross Pedersen, John Burton, Dominic Constantino, August Ghiglione, Paul Kimball, Trygve Hansen, Bob Wallis, Bill Duncan, Jack Barber, Al Stedman, Stan Rich, Merritt Maurer, Harold Hoyt, Eugene Bell, Chuck Callin, Cameron Callin, Jack Gilliam, Frank De Caro and Dick Camp.

Ross Pedersen, the husky, plunging half-back that captained the Wave for two years, was one of the three Franklin players to be chosen on the all-city team. The others were John Burton, who placed at guard for the second time, and Chuck Callin, who took his brother's place at quarter in mid-season and filled it to perfection.

The player who is voted the greatest inspiration to the team during the playing season is awarded the Warner trophy. This year John Burton was chosen by his fellow players to have his name engraved on the cup. Besides being the outstanding player in the prep league, John had that fighting spirit that drove the team on. Burton graduates this year and will be greatly missed.

Lettermen who will be back next fall to form the nucleus around which Coach Doug Kirk will form his 1931 grid team are: Merritt Maurer, Paul Kimball, Chuck Callin, Trygve Hansen, Jack Gilliam, Dick Camp, Harold Hoyt, Gene Bell, Frank De Caro and Cameron Callin.

SECOND TEAM FOOTBALL

As something for the first string to try their plays and condition themselves on, the second team was a decided success. But in actual playing against other second teams, the season was a wash-out. Only two of the six scheduled games were played because the other teams did not have enough players.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Surprising everyone but themselves, "Pop" Reed's Frosh stepped out and won the championship. Lincoln fell first, 27-0. Queen Anne went down on the short end of a 26-0 score, Ballard lost 20-0, and Cleveland was downed, 48-0. In the play-off Roosevelt was taken to the tune of 6 to 0.

Although Captain Frank (Nifty Nick) Nichols and his mates failed to come out victorious after a triple tie for the championship with Queen Anne and Lincoln, the Green Wave's basketball season was a decided success, the Wave winning eight and losing four, two of these in the championship round.

In the first round the Quakers were taken by Queen Anne in the first game but came back strong to down Roosevelt, Lincoln, Broadway and Garfield before Cleveland pulled an upset and set them down. Ballard and West Seattle were next to fall.

In the second round Cleveland and Queen Anne were both badly trounced in revenge for the early season beatings. But in the game that would have cinched the championship, Lincoln came out ahead, throwing Franklin, Queen Anne and Lincoln into a triple tie. In the semi-final play-off, the Kuays nosed out an 18-17 victory, eliminating the Green Wave from the running. Lincoln then beat Queen Anne to take the championship, which Franklin had been working towards for four years.

But though they didn't land on top, the Quakers had two notable achievements to their credit. They scored more points and had fewer scored against them than any team. Frank Nichols, three times all-city man and twice captain, completed an all-time scoring record for a single season of 132 points and for three years of 345.

SECOND TEAM BASKETBALL

The "Winless Wonders," so named because of their losing streak which lasted through the whole first round, in which they dropped eight games in a row, were certainly a contrast to the first squad.

In the championship round they broke into the win column with victories over Cleveland and Queen Anne and tied Lincoln.

Letters winners were: Ralph Shomberg, Jack Barber, Melvin Paulson, Art D'Angelo, Bill Le May, Russ Skallerud, Desmond Canavan and Bob Hawes.

Le May Barber D'Angelo Paulson Hawes Shomberg

SOPH BASKETBALL

The Quaker Sophomore hoopsters won the championship in their division, the first time that a Franklin Soph aggregation has done this in twelve years. They suffered only one reverse during the whole season and piled up 243 points to their opponents 176.

Developing from a mediocre Freshman outfit, the Sophs swept through the opposition easily. Captain Ed Lyford at center, Ives and Moser at guards, and Weinker and Kiene playing forward, was the best combination.

FROSH BASKETBALL

Mediocre material and poor shooting could not be balanced by a good defense alone, so "Pop" Reed's yearlings were just an average Freshman basketball team. They were green and they started slow, winning three and losing five.

With the best infield in the city and a hard-hitting outfield, Franklin's 1930 ball team, under the tutelage of Coach Ralph Reed, looked as if it would be going some place if the pitching picked up, but that department was noticeably weak at press time, Cleveland bowing to Lapasin and Lincoln routing three hurlers with eighteen hits.

Attempting to follow in the footsteps of Scott Fiscus were Lapasin, Jones, Valella, Lowe and Crandall. Behind the plate were Connors, Jordan and Burke. Pedersen at first, and Rich at short, were the only members of last year's infield back. They were supported at their positions by Starkey and Parker. Second base was underclassmen's heaven with Di Julio, Seyller and Reseburg cavorting around the second sack.

Balbi and Stallcop held down the hot corner. Fly-chasers were few but they were all hard hitters. Sollick, Burton, Shomberg, Weinker, Tulip and Kenny were the outfielders.

A large turnout greeted Coach Kirk's initial call for track men with four veterans returning. Captain Hansen in the dashes and broad jump, Rich in the hurdles, Burnett in the high jump, and Daly in the pole vault, were the veterans.

Many others were also showing up well early in the season. Besides Hansen, Kirk and Polokoff in the dashes and Vlastnik in the broad jump; Martenson and Camp in the weights; Stoss, D'Angelo, Hendrickson and Boni in distance and middle-distance; and Lewis and Skarp in the pole vault.

An exceptional group of Frosh showed early season promise, among them being Maginnis, Doughty, Huess, Scott and Bennett.

Franklin lost to West Seattle and was to compete next in the relay carnival at the "U" and then in a triangular meets with Broadway and Queen Anne, and Garfield and Roosevelt.

The climax of the season was the All-City meet May 29.

Don Degeeter
Golf '29

GOLF

Franklin's golf team looked like potential champions as we went to press, having won all five matches played. Cleveland, Garfield, Broadway, Queen Anne and Lincoln were the teams that bowed to the Quaker golfers.

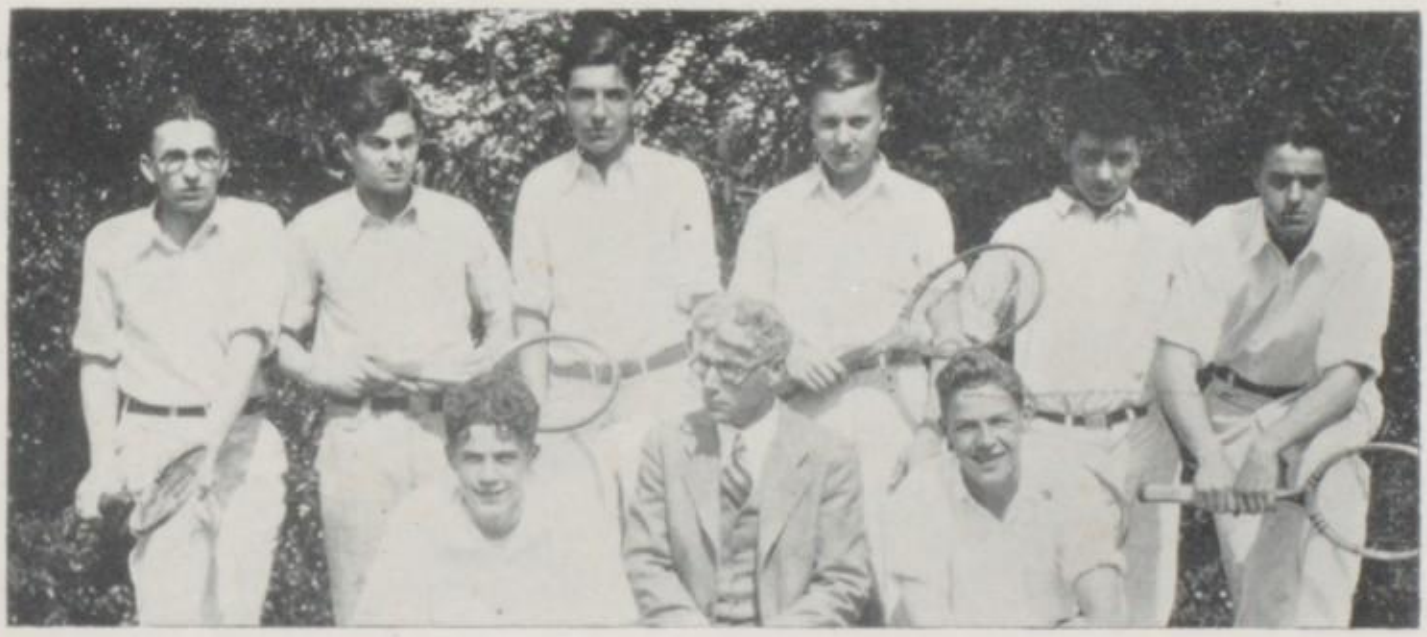
Ballard, last year's champs, had also won five matches, but they dropped the sixth. Czarniecki was the only man to win every point in every match.

The team consisted of Czarniecki, Campbell, Nickols, Anderson, Murphy, Nelson, Smith, Hadley, Raschke and Johnson.

TENNIS

Tennis, never strong among the minor spring sports, was no exception this year. As we went to press only two matches had been played and both were lost, Broadway and West Seattle being the victors.

Members of the team in the order they were ranked were: Russell Skallerud, Roger Evans, Don Laizure, Dick Burnett, Howard Thomas and Jack Woodman. Edgar Scofield and Morris Gershon were also making strong bids for places on the team.



R. N. Knapp, Instructor

BOYS' INTRAMURAL

Under the guiding hand of R. N. Knapp, boy's gym instructor, intramural sports have completed another successful year, providing healthful recreation for a large number of boys who have afternoons to spare.

The after-school basketball league got under way soon after school started and ran till Thanksgiving, Campbell's team winning in the A Division and Hamilton's in B Division. An 8 o'clock league was formed later and played from Thanksgiving to Christmas.

The Juniors won the inter-class basketball championship and then were beaten by the faculty.

Following basketball came intramural volleyball, which the Seniors won. The Juniors were second, the Frosh third, and the Sophs fourth. The faculty was to take on the Seniors for the school championship.

Interest in soccer lagged and no tournament was arranged as in previous years. The cross-country run was not held this year either, but various other events were scheduled. Indoor and outdoor baseball leagues were being formed as Tolo went to press and an outdoor track meet and a golf tournament were in the offing. Horseshoe and tennis tournaments were also planned, but there was not sufficient interest in them and they died a lingering death.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

Miss A. B. Shaw, Instructor

Girls' athletics enjoyed another successful year under the leadership of Miss A. B. Shaw and Miss Catherine Rogers, who gave unsparingly of their time to help the large number of girls who turned out for intramural athletics.

The first fall sport was soccer for the Freshmen girls and hockey for the other three classes. Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors were taken to the University of Washington to see a demonstration game. In the inter-class tournament, which was refereed by U. of W. physical education students, the Seniors won the championship.

Basketball was the next sport on the girls' athletics calendar. The Senior girls again showed their superiority in sports by winning the inter-class championship in this sport also, winning the Elden trophy.

A year-around sport was hiking. Eight interesting hikes were taken during the year. The first was through the woods from school to Madrona. Along Seward Park Boulevard to Rose Street was the route of the next one. A Christmas greens hike on Mercer Island was taken with the girls from Roosevelt and Lincoln. Next was a tramp to Fort Lawton along the beach. The fifth hike was up from Renton through the woods.

Spring sports opened with volleyball, which the Seniors won. Baseball and track turnouts started the second week in May. On May 17 Miss Shaw took thirty-five girls to the annual high school play-day at the "U."

Girls who took over the thankless job of managing the girl athletics were: Helen Jacobs, Freshman soccer; Anna Haberland, hockey; May Waters, Freshman basketball; Alice Armstrong, Soph, Junior, Senior basketball; Helen Cryer, hikes; Adelaide Egner and Josephine Yates, volleyball; Marguerite Scaramuzzo, baseball; and Betty Strickler, track.

BOYS' CLUB

Helping to establish enthusiasm for activities among the Franklin boys is the object of the Boys' Club. Electing the officers for two semesters started the activity for this year.

This club sponsored as their first event the Father and Son banquet, given annually in honor of the football squad. Hec Edmundson, basketball and track coach of the University of Washington, and Steve Anderson, international hurdles champion, spoke.

Boys' Club combined with the Girls' Club in presenting the vodvil, in October. The various committees, under the officers, and in conjunction with the Girls' Club committees, helped the school and students in numerous ways.

The last event of the year was the Boys' Club Conference held at Fortuna Park. About two hundred and fifty members were present.

Buying the athletic equipment and promoting the general spirit of athletics throughout the school, the Boys' Club has come through with a successful year.

HI-Y CLUB

". . . . to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character," is the purpose of the Franklin Hi-Y Club, a branch of an international organization composed entirely of separate groups of high school boys. In Franklin it has twenty-five members, devoted to school and community service. Cocoa was served by the group to the football team during the season, members helped with the work on our field, assisted in coaching, managed, took tickets and ushered at the Civic Stadium, provided transportation, and served as grade school advisers. Mr. S. P. Trathen is the active adviser of the group. The feature of the year's activities was the Mothers' and Sons' Banquet held at the Mt. Baker Presbyterian Church last October. Mrs. Stanley Long, president of the Y. W. C. A., was the main speaker. Other speakers of the year were Mr. Upton, Earl Dome of the "Y," Mr. Evanson of Korea, and Mr. E. C. Fleming, assistant superintendent of public schools of King County, Washington.

Ross Pedersen	Vice-President
Al Stedman	Secretary
Merritt Maurer	Treasurer

QUAKER MAIDS

White sweaters sporting a bright green "F" and the small "Q. M." These are the insignia that designate one of Franklin's most spirited organizations. The Quaker Maids, newly organized this year, is a club of girls who have won an "F" in athletics. During the year the girls in the club have sponsored two play-days with girls from other high schools, a St. Patrick's Day breakfast, and an overnight hike at Lake Taps for the members. The club also sponsored a health assembly and at games they were there in full force to lend their pep. A big success given was the picnic at Lincoln Beach, where each member took one of the women teachers. Last on the program was a picnic for all of the members given at Gerry Buckner's summer home at Manchester. At the last meeting of the year officers for the ensuing year were elected. Thelma Burke was chosen to handle the helm of the organization and she will be assisted by June Haberland in the office of vice-president. Lois Bowden will record the minutes of the club. Membership of club is 50.

Ann Haberland	President
Josephine Yates	Vice-President
Thelma Burke	Secretary

COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Commercial Club is organized for the benefit of commercial students who are interested in learning more about the business world than their course offers. The club has had many interesting speakers at their meetings, which are held monthly. During the year the club had visited the Telephone Building in Seattle and the State Capitol Building at Olympia. This club is noted as being one of the few organizations in Franklin that offers refreshments at all of their meetings. The club has about thirty-five registered members and three committees—the Refreshment, the Program and the Publicity. It has been an active organization in Franklin for many years, and continues to draw a large number of interested students.

Another of the club's activities is the trips they make. This year they went down to visit the Capitol Building at Olympia. They were guided about the Capitol by Judge French. Five cars were filled with members, and everybody had a marvelous time. They also visited the Telephone Building here in Seattle. When the Puyallup Western Washington Fair was on, they went to visit it. When the Annual went to press they were planning a trip that was going to be a picnic.

THE THRIFT CLUB

Sayings, be they ever so wise, have a way of becoming trite; not so with Franklin's wise word as to thrift, "A penny saved is a penny earned"; it serves as the motto of The Thrift Club of our high school and has become a really active principle in the lives of our students.

This has been a good year in the matter of thrift. Under the leadership of Roy Holland, Franklin has consistently held second place—no small achievement when one realizes how keen has been the competition among the nine high schools of the city. The "faces" on Franklin's totem pole have gone up and gone down as the fortunes of the various schools rose and fell—and hundreds of pairs of eyes in Franklin's halls scanned their movements with keen interest.

While Franklin's percentage of savings has been—and is—very creditable, her aim is not, primarily, to make a high percentage, but rather to inculcate in her sons and daughters the habit of saving wisely in order to live more fully.

DEBATE CLUB

The club is one of importance to students and to Franklin. It trains the students for interscholastic debating.

The two questions debated upon this year were: Resolved, that the Philippine Islands should have their independence, and, Resolved, that the final examinations should be abolished.

SPANISH CLUB

SERVICE CLUB

Increased activity on the part of this organization has established it among the most useful and beneficial clubs ever organized at Franklin. As the name makes plain, the Service Club's only aim is to serve the school—without praise, personal benefit or special recognition.

August Ghiglione ..... President Second Semester

STAMP CLUB

Auctions, talks by experts, exhibits and meetings every two weeks, all go to make the Stamp Club an interesting and profitable organization to its members. The club provides a place for those students who are interested in stamp collecting to get together and discuss stamps.

The officers of the club are:

Orrin Vincent ..... President
Melvin Paulson ..... Vice-President
Alvin Pearson ..... Secretary-Treasurer

Wishing you a good future life. Gregorio F. Osias '31

FILIPINO CLUB

The club was organized for the benefit of the Filipino students, to help them obtain positions, get acquainted in school, and in general make it easier for them in unfamiliar surroundings.

Their year's program reached its climax last fall, when the club sponsored a party, to which the entire school was invited.

Vidal F. Alvarez	President	Leoncio Jacob
Leoncio Jacob	Vice-President	Gregorio Osias
Rufino Felipe	Secretary-Treasurer	Alster Callins

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMITTEE

The committee, under the guidance of Miss McGrath, supervises many charitable drives during the year. Among their undertakings are the annual Red Cross drive, a tin-foil drive, several fruit drives, as well as the handling and distribution of Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets. Alice Armstrong and Joe McDonald are the Girls' and Boys' Club chairmen, respectively.

IMPROVEMENT COMMITTEE

With Mr. Griffin as adviser, the members of Franklin's Improvement Committee endeavor to educate the students in keeping up the interior and exterior appearance of Franklin. This committee painted part of the waiting station on Rainier Avenue, and are responsible for numerous improvements in Franklin. Dorothy Mae Brennan was secretary and Douglas Wightman was chairman.

FUNMAKERS COMMITTEE

For this year's entertainment the Funmakers sponsored the Vodvil in October and gave two skits for assemblies. They also planned a circus day and helped promote pep at athletic games. Evelyn Peterson and Ruric Todd are chairmen of this committee and Miss Dohney is the faculty adviser. Miss Hunter and Miss Kuehn supervised the production of the Vodvil.

LIBRARIANS

Many girls are chosen by Miss Caughey, our librarian, to help her and the students in the duties of making Franklin's library a profitable and interesting place of education. Ruth Buehrer is assistant librarian. Service points for the Honor Society are awarded to these girls, who devote their study periods to working in the library.

STAGE FORCE

Responsibility for staging, properties, and lighting rests on the shoulders of the stage force and this department showed up exceptionally well this year. Although most of the crew were lowerclassmen they performed their duties like veterans and much of the credit for success of the productions this year is due them.

Wish you the best of luck.

Sincerely

Yoshio Nishimura

THE FACULTY PICNIC

The faculty picnic was held late in September at Lincoln Beach. Miss Kuebler was chairman, Miss McGrath and Miss Hunter made up the committee. The teachers left Franklin after making the refreshments in the lunchroom. They had macaroni and cheese and a salad and apple pie a la mode.

Mr. Knapp led the games, which consisted of everything from baseball to ballet dancing.

Miss O'Leary, Miss Keuhn and Miss Jardine were among the bravest and braved the chilly waters of the Sound.

Rumor has it that Mr. Trathen and Miss Bisazza entertained with a spring dance accompanied by a vocal selection rendered by Miss Gorman, accompanied on the violin by Miss Kassebaum.

Other teachers entertained and the new teachers became better acquainted. Studies and school thoughts left behind and a happy, hilarious time was had by all.

Sept. 2—Dear Diary:

Gee, what a relief! Now for a nine months period of rest after the past ten weeks of dancing, swimming, boating, and hiking. Mine is the best coat of tan in school—I'm so proud, I could pop. I saw Ross Petersen the first thing today. (If he only knew—be still, O my fluttering heart.) This new six-period day is not so bad, it makes an extra study-period to skip.

Sept. 5—Dear Diary:

Just a line to let you know that I have the sweetest Oral Expression teacher. Blue eyes, dark hair, and Irish as they make 'em. No wonder all the boys are taking the subject.

P. S.—Just heard that Scotty Campbell won a cup for being Junior City Golf Champion or something. Hmmm—well, now let's see—I bet that cup would look nice on my dresser—Hmm.

Sept. 25—Dear Diary:

Went to the Frosh Get-Acquainted party today, and nearly died laughing at Lois Nelson and Thelma Burke in their clown costumes.

Sept. 30—Dear Diary:

One sees some of the funniest sights around school. Just the other day I thought I'd burst, watching Wayne Richardson carry a penny box of matches on his nose for a Hi-Y member during Wayne's initiation. Which reminds me—a Hi-Y pin would look nice on my new sweater.

Oct. 15—Dear Diary:

The Green Book came out today and I did so much want to buy mine from that handsome "Chuck Henry." But Bill Speidel met me right at the main door, and the only way to get rid of him (without an axe) was to buy one from him, so I did.

Oct. 19—Dear Diary:

I'm chagrined, I mean I really am. Not a single solitary man asked to take me to the Vodvil, "Franklin Static," I went alone and had it not been for seeing that cute Jack Jarvis who is the editor of Tolo, and hearing Bob Devin and Mer Moores sing, the evening would have been utterly ruined. I think Harriette Nelson's "Collegiate Blues" idea was the best act on the bill—I actually do.

Oct. 23—Dear Diary:

I think I have met the man of my dreams. It is Whitey Imberg. After seeing him literally scoop Camille Wake into his arms and carry her back to the top of the stairs, when she jaywalked against the traffic squad, I knew I had fallen.

Guess I'll try it myself. Don't you just adore these masterful men?

Oct. 25—Dear Diary:

What do you think? Paul Lattner took me to the Franklin-Broadway football game. We passed Lois Austin, Elizabeth Cassidy, and Evelyn Wicks riding in Merle Walker's Puddle Jumper. I'll bet they were so mad they could spit. The players wore the cutest uniforms and I had on my new dress. I certainly enjoyed watching that cute Harold Williams lead yells.

P. S.—The score was 19-2 our favor.

Nov. 2—Dear Diary:

Today I saw Franklin beat Cleveland to the tune of 33-0. I think Merritt Maurer is the handsomest man on the team.

I hear "Bobby" Brown has become the inspiration of Tolo Office. I'd be jealous if they weren't such a bunch of saps.

Nov. 14—Dear Diary:

I'm so mad I could bite nails! Last night was "Back-to-School Night" and Miss Bennett told mother that I spent most of my time talking to Alice Beachwood and Bill Acomb.

Nov. 26—Dear Diary:

Life holds more disappointments! Tonight we tried to crash the "Father and Son," banquet all to no avail. We did see Ruric Todd get hypnotized, however.

Dec. 7—Dear Diary:

Guess what? Roy Holland took me to the Senior Play. It was really not half bad, either. The title was "The Importance of Being Earnest," and Russ Skallerud, Wally Snellenberg and Roy Gustafson were simply grand! It made me jealous of Bernice Pearson, Elaine Marsh, and Dorothy Charroin, though—I wish I could have been in it. Roger Evans was in the Friday night cast but he took Clara Kehoe tonight. Looks like he's fallen hard. I suppose that's another couple to join the ranks of Cline-Nichols, Miller-Matthews, Gallant-Jarvis, etc.

Dec. 11—Dear Diary:

Al Stedman, Bob Hawes, Chuck Henry, Jack Barber, Ruric Todd and Dave Nelson tried to crash the Girls' Club party today. I wonder who they think they are?

Dec. 13 (Friday, too)—

Dear Diary:

Free Junior-Senior "mat" today. Of course, everybody was there. Gerry Fitzpatrick's orchestra and refreshments supplied most of the entertainment.

P. S.—Dick Camp and this silly yo-yo fad are getting on my nerves.

Jan. 14—Dear Diary:

Basketball again. Jack Woodman took me to see Franklin beat Roosevelt, 22-12. (I hope Edith doesn't hear about it.) Frank Nichols was so cute! He made fifteen points—whatever that means.

Feb. 3—Dear Diary:

The sentence in the French grammar read, "Men fade away like flowers." And my dear teacher, Mr. George B. Jackson, asked the girls of the class, "Are they as hard to keep as that, girls?"

All the boys laughed and Bill Imberg wise-cracked as usual.

Feb. 10—Dear Diary:

Oh dear, I'm simply flabbergasted! I've been appointed one of those personal nursery maids to the new Frosh. It doesn't seem possible that I was so young once myself.

Feb. 15—Dear Diary:

The zoology "back table gang" has discovered a new way to get to class on time. They set the alarm clock a half hour ahead every evening and then get to school right on time, as they usually take an extra fifteen minutes' sleep in the morning. G. Wendell Matthews and "Beans" Kimball thought up that bright idea.

Feb. 19—Dear Diary:

At last they've found a sports editor that hasn't called Frank Nichols "Nifty Nick." He works on a paper in a place called Bryn Mawr. That's up on the Goat Hill car line just south of where Clara Kehoe lives.

Feb. 20—Dear Diary:

Whew! Girls' club banquet. I ate so much I could nearly burst. Can't write any more.

P. S.—Roger and Clara are still going strong.

March 5—Dear Diary:

I heard the cutest poem today—and it's so expressive I just have to write it for you.

Lives of Seniors all remind
us,
We can strive and do our best,
And departing, leave behind
us
Notebooks to help the rest.

Oh, yes, and Art D'Angelo has met Evelyn Walter—and it looks bad.

March 12—Dear Diary:

Well, well, our roll 317, won the subscription drive for Tolo Annual. I personally sold 18. Sixteen to boys and two to girls—what do you think?

I wonder who'll take me to the opera? The old wooden flag-pole toppled today, and fell across the street—I wish Ed Metzger had been under it.

March 18—Dear Diary:

It may have been a secret code, the ending of a letter to a boy friend, or merely a design for cross-stitch on a bath-towel, but Bobs Brown and Harriett Harnan kept marking X's on a sheet of paper half the period. And, of course, the incident appeared in Hi-Life, Jack Jarvis' scandal column in Tolo.

March 26—Dear Diary:

Oh, the awfulest thing happened today! A horrid mouse came right into our chemistry class. I was scared stiff, but Bob Effinger came to the rescue and everything turned out all right.

I notice Jane Bringoff has George Stoss on the string—I wonder how she does it.

Who's going to take me to the opera?

April 1—Dear Diary:

The April Fool edition of Tolo Weekly was a riot! Wasn't so funny when Jacqueline McCullough and I got caught skipping third period, though. S. P. T. was nice about it, but we're making up time just the same.

P. S.—Whitey and Madeline had only four fights today.

April 30—Dear Diary:

Ralph James, Roberta Brown, Eugene Miller, Josephine Nichols, Don Laizure and Rae Gallant are to be our commencement speakers. I only hope they don't talk too long and that there's a good party afterwards.

May 3—Dear Diary:

I went to the opera with Bob Wallis. Gee, but he's cute! Plays football, too. "The Chocolate Soldier" was actually good. Art D'Angelo, Verl Busenbark and Roy Gustafson were simply marvelous. I didn't like the way Bob raved about Margaret Ries and Dot Griffin, though.

Afterward, we went to Rogers' and met a whole gang of kids—including Howard Steinholm and Ed Powell.

—And Rog and Clara are still going strong, maybe I'm jealous.

May 7—Dear Diary:

Barbara Jacobsen is the new Girls' Club President. She's an awfully nice kid, and I'm glad she was selected. Sue Mosely, Jeanne Champreux, Evelyn Peterson, and Fritzie Smith are the other officers.

May 14—Dear Diary:

Tryg Hansen was elected president of the Boys' Club and Lennie Rich vice-president, both cute as everything while Chuckie Callin was elected secretary of the organization. Gee, you know it seems to me as though the Boys' Club doesn't amount to very much after all. Wonder what's going to happen to it next year.

May 24—Dear Diary:

Today was as dead as an honor society assembly. Every single man I knew went to that silly old Boys' Club Conference. Vanecia Ewing and I went to a show and saw John Gilbert, but I don't think he's nearly as cute as Billy Duncan.

May 27—Dear Diary:

Principal Reed said today that all those who have their names on the walls in Tolo office will not be graduated until the names are taken off. Half the school is up there trying to take the tell-tale names off.

June 2—Dear Diary:

Senior Class Day. The Assembly took up most of the morning and parts of the will, prophecy and history were certainly appropriate.

June 5—Dear Diary:

Gosh, I won't be able to write much tonight, I've already got writer's cramp from signing annuals. This is one way of getting a cute picture of Vic Vieg, even if he won't give me one, himself.

June 6—Dear Diary:

Last day of school for us Seniors! Do I feel big? No end. And to think that all the rest of the poor unfortunates still have another week to go.

June 11—Dear Diary:

Commencement tonight. What a grand 'n glorious feelin!!!!! Well, little book —I guess this is Au Revoir with you and me. G'Bye.

P. S.—Evans and Clara are still going strong.

CONGRATULATIONS -

Irene

To those who have worked so diligently and unceasingly to make this annual such an outstanding success, we offer our congratulations. It is a pleasure to have had a share in its production.

We predict that as the years pass you will find this book an unfailing stimulus to halting memory. When twenty, thirty, yes forty years from now you revisit the scenes of your youth through these pages, then and only then will this annual have fulfilled its destiny.

Until that time comes we suggest you preserve it carefully.

Sincerely,
Mary Elaine

LIKING THE LOOKS OF THIS ANNUAL

You'll give credit to your competent school staff which produced it . . . and then, you'll not forget its printers, the Lumbermen's Press, that each year produces annuals for discriminating high schools and colleges throughout the great Northwest.

ORGANIZED LABOR

of Seattle and Vicinity Heartily Congratulates the Class of 1930

wishing them success as they face life's problems, and that they may have a social vision that will always welcome an opportunity to render service to their fellowmen, so that they may have an opportunity to live a better and fuller life.

Education develops an understanding of one's self, of others, of the great universe of which we are a part, and the significance of life itself. Through such understanding, education we believe, will lead to the development of individuals to the utmost limit of their capacity. Education eliminates the factors of uncertainty and indecision in life, and develops confidence and directness of purpose.

Second to no other achievement of labor has been its effective assistance of educational opportunities. Its first demand was for the free public school for children and compulsory education laws, which was followed by developing an understanding that greater efforts should be made for increasing the opportunities for adult education.

The unions, by keeping the road of opportunity open, and by fostering and assisting every movement toward educational opportunities, have helped to prevent the crystalization of class barriers which would have frustrated all democratic ideals and purposes. It has demonstrated its efficiency as an agency for social betterment; it has been an essential factor in raising the national standards of living.

Organized Labor welcomes the opportunity which comes to us to serve one another, to serve unselfishly as occasion presents itself. What is there in life that brings such satisfaction and such great reward as service? Not service that finds inspiration in the selfish motives of the human heart, not the service that springs from a desire to promote one's material interest, but service that comes from a desire to serve and assist your fellowmen.

last year we prepare to depart, not as we entered—mere ch higher education, while others of us, having gained the requisi ence which is so necessary in the lives of men. We must labor that we may more wisely aid in the direction of the problems of our high school days, and bowing low, we pay homage to the each to his chosen future.

Upon the completion of our fourth and dren—but young men and women, some of us bound for knowledge for our chosen futures, seek practical experiligently and observe well the current affairs of the world, of tomorrow. Bidding a fond farewell to the Alma Mater terling character for which Franklin stands, and we depart—
